

Tom Jones "It Was A Great Day For The U.S.A. Will Be Given When Indiana First Became A State" By Drama Club

The Dramatics Club will present the three-act play Tom Jones on May 10. The action is seen through the eyes of Partridge, a scholar, barber, and physician.

Tom Jones takes place in England around 1750. Tom Jones, a young foundling, falls in love with Miss Sophia Western, the daughter of a wealthy country gentleman. His object is the combination of the two estates. Sophia wants to marry Tom, but her father forbids this because Tom's ancestry is unknown and he has no estate. Tom is banished from the country and goes to London. When Mr. Western is going to force Sophia to marry Blifil, she runs away and goes to London to seek Tom. They have many adventures there, among them a murder trial.

The characters are as follows. Tom Jones, Randy Leuty; Partridge, Ronnie Kellem; Captain Blifil and the highwayman are both played by Mike Shireman; Mr. Western, Max Rusk; Sophia, Missy Forsythe; Miss Western, Teresa Norman; Mrs. Waters, Barbara Pinaire; Susan, Elizabeth Ward; Lady Bellaston, Becky Brown; Honor, Deanna Miller; Deborah, Kay Mitchell; Blifil, Billy Blair; Mr. Square, Tim Kirkham; and Mr. Thwackum, Jim Mathes. The play is directed by Mrs. Elam.

The elaborate costumes of the time will be made by members of the Dramatics Club. Martha Yates is in charge of the sewing committee.

Members of the stage committee are Kathy Wilson, Alice Harrell, Evelyn Andriot, Becky Webb, and Nancy Keller. Evelyn is the chairman.

Sr. - Jr. Bands Win Excellent Ratings

The fifty-five members of the band and the ninety members of the Junior High Band took part in the ISMA playing contest at Salem April 16. Both bands received second or excellent ratings from the judges. The bands played at 8:00 and 9:40 a.m. so that the students could get back to Corydon in time to see the many events of the

"It Was A Great Day For The U.S.A. When Indiana First Became A State"

This Is A Quote From A Song Written By Mr. Hurley Conrad And Sung For The First Time On Stamp Day

The First Day Sale of the Indiana Sesquicentennial Stamp, April 16, will be a day long remembered by citizens of Indiana and especially of Harrison County.

Sandullo Family Will Become USA Citizens

May 17, 1966

Frank and Mario Sandullo will receive their United States citizenship papers May 17, 1966. They will go to the Federal Court in New Albany to take the oath on this date.

The process of naturalization began three years ago when the two boys accompanied by their mother and younger brother Johni came from their home in Italy to join their father, Dr. Nicola Sandullo, in Corydon.

On April 13, the family went to New Albany where the boys took an oral test. The age limit of twenty-one prevented their taking the written examination. The questions covered both the United States and Indiana Constitution. They were also questioned on rules of society.

The procedure for the family to receive their naturalization papers was easier because their father was already a citizen of the United States. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Swank acted as their witnesses.

Stamp Day celebration.

Director Thomas Trueblood stated that both bands presented a fine performance.

The band entered class BB and played "High School Cadets," by Sousa, Overture to the Opera "Kunihild," by Wagner and Overture for Winds by Carter. The Junior High Band entered class G and played "Military Escort", by Bennett, "Introduction and Sarabande" by Locke, and "Robert Burns Overture", by Gordon.

Director Trueblood noted that despite the fact the Junior High received a second place, there has been an improvement in technique and musicianship. The Robert Burns Overture", which the Junior High took to the contest, is the same selection the High School band played four years ago.

Many high school students will reminisce on this day when in 1916 they attend the 200th anniversary of the Birth of Indiana.

The parade from the Old State Capitol to the luncheon at the high school was headed by the Colors and the Purdue University Band, directed by Al Wright. Following the band were the State Sesquicentennial Queen Sylvia Butler and County Queen Diana Grant, CCHS '64, the Queen's Court of Princesses, Governor Branigin, Deputy Postmaster General Frederick Belen and many other dignitaries.

High school students were a great help to the adult committees in welcoming the guests, running errands and doing anything they were asked to do.

Those who helped Mr. Saulman and the Reception Committee at the high school were Alice Barks, Mary Brockman, Karen McCoy, Kay Mitchell, Teresa Norman, Alice Harrell, Jane Swisher, Cindy Steenbergen, Kathy Wilson, Nancy Timberlake, Sheila Timberlake, Allen Hoskins, Harold Higginbotham, Randy Leuty and Mike Jones.

At the Coffee Hour in the Court House lobby were Diane Smith, Nancy Keller, Linda Kintner. These girls assisted Mrs. O'Bannon and the Reception committees and also sold First Day cachets. Most of the girls were in costumes of the early 1800's.

Tom Emily, Jim McGraw and Danny Utz carried the hot coffee from the Presbyterian church to the Court House. Carl B. Rainbolt, Jr. took pictures of many events during Stamp Day which will be used in the county scrap book.

The FBLA, under the direction of Mrs. Fluhr, placed 71,000 of the new Indiana Sesquicentennial stamps on their official envelopes. They earned $100 for their work.

Saulman Announces Summer School

Mr. Saulman has announced classes in algebra, biology, typing, driver training, and physical education for athletes will be taught

Alexander - Kellem Each Receive $1,000 Keller Scholarship

Keller scholarship winners this year are Ronnie Kellem and Roger Alexander. The boys were so evenly matched scholastically that two $1,000 scholarships were given instead of the customary one. These scholarships are given annually by the Keller Manufacturing Company to sons of employees. Roger is enrolled at Purdue University and plans to major in Agricultural Science. His father, Caras Alexander, has been employed with Keller since July, 1946, and today is a table assembler. Roger has been an active member of the Future Teachers of America for four years. He has been doing cadet teaching, helping the faculty grade papers, and tutoring other students with scholastic problems. He has also been active in the in summer school beginning June 6 and ending July 29.

Mr. Reagan will teach algebra for the fifth consecutive year to 36 students. The enrollment for biology is 39 and will be taught by Mr. Miles. Miss Lois Rothrock, who will join the CCHS faculty in September, will teach typing to 32 pupils. Driver training will be taught by both Mr. Wood and Mr. Cato as 57 new drivers have enrolled in this class. Physical education for athletes has 17 boys enrolled in it and will be taught by Mr. Wood.

Two credits may be earned in algebra, biology; one credit for typing and one-half each for physical education and driver training.

Latin Club for two years.

Ronnie, plans to major in engineering at Evansville College and return to work at Kellers. His father, Ralph has been maintenance foreman at Kellers since Aug, 1957. Ronnie has been active in sports and is a member of the Math and Dramatics clubs. He was a delegate to Boys' State in the summer of 1965.

The object of the scholarship is to help one student a year in college receive enough financial aid that through his own efforts he will get a college degree.

To be eligible for a scholarship a boy must be in the top third of his class and his father must have been employed by the Keller Manufacturing Company for at least three consecutive years. The boys will receive $400 on the first day of school and $200 each of the following years.

Awards have been given since 1962 and have been won by CCHS grads, Larry Miller, Roger Miller, and James Matthews.

E. Ward Wins Indiana State Scholarship

Elizabeth Ward has received a State Scholarship to attend Indiana University. The award was issued from the State Scholarship Committee of Indiana for use during the 1966-67 academic year.

Winners were chosen on the basis of academic merit. The stipend is based on the recipient's need as determined through careful examination supplied to the Commission.

Elizabeth will attend Indiana University and major in English, to become a teacher in high school.

She has been a member of both the Future Teachers and Drama Club for four years; she is secretary of the National Honor Society and has been a member of the Math Club her senior year where she has served a secretary-treasurer and reporter.

Brown, Frank Sandullo, Becky Weber, Becky Brown, Virginia Creclius, Mr. Saulman, Lonna Cavins, Nancy Owen, Mrs. Bruner, Mike Monohan, Mario Sandullo, and Roger Alexander.

Mrs. Windell is shown with the new proofing cabinet which has recently been put into use in the cafeteria. It will store plans of yeast products and keep them at a definite temperature.

The cabinet has a capacity of 37 pans and each pan will hold 88 rolls making a total of 3256 rolls that can be processed at one time.

Mrs. Windell, supervisor of cafeteria lunches, gave two Easter baskets filled with eggs and homemade candy to students, Richard Hendricks, from the High School, and Helen Frost, from the Junior High. The winners were chosen from a drawing of the lunch tickets from each school. Mrs. Windell is pictured with Helen Frost and Richard Hendricks holding their Easter baskets.

SYMPATHY

The students and faculty wish to express their sincere sympathy to James Cunningham, senior, upon the death of his father, Floyd Cunningham and to Joe Smith, senior, whose mother passed away recently.

Frederick Teaching Business Arithmetic

Mr. Frederick, math teacher, is teaching Business Arithmetic to 18 adults in the adult education classes. The class began April 3 and meets from 7 - 10 every Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday nights and offers two credits.

OPINIONS

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

This letter is not for the benefit of the editor of this paper or for anyone else in this school except those selected few who think so much of themselves that they can stand up and laugh at someone else. I am referring to those "seniors" that saw fit to have a good time at some other people's expense. It is not only these seniors though. There are quite a few people in this school who laugh and make fun of other people.

In most cases these people take advantage of people who may be less fortunate than they are, either physically, mentally, or financially. Most of the people who do this are those who never have to worry what to wear, or where to get the money to do this or that. The unfortunate people in this world don't make themselves that way. What is wrong with some people, anyway? Nobody can say, "I am going to be born rich, or smart, or physically perfect." If that could be done, everybody in the world would be perfect.

I have first hand experience at being the butt of such ignorance. I have just come back from doing my part in the Senior Radio Day. And I can only say this for it. Some of the Seniors and even an adult have really surprised me. I was not the only person that was there and participated, but I am the only one that found out about it, I imagine. I only have one opinion of these people — they make me sick. They only showed me their ignorance, immaturity, and confirmed my theory that anybody

Thinking People

By NANCY KELLER

Thinking people don't whine about anything they can't do anything about. Thinking people get their term papers in on time. Thinking people have more fun after their work is done. Thinking people don't jazz up their cars. Thinking people give other people the benefit of a doubt. Thinking people like new experiences. Thinking people like the better things in life. Thinking people break rocks open to see what's inside. Thinking people want to know what makes things tick. Thinking people become bored doing nothing. Thinking people keep up with the news. Thinking people want to find out what's "in", and then decide whether they like it or not. Thinking people find out everything about something before they tear it down. Thinking people study for tests. Thinking people keep decent hours on school nights. Thinking people do not try to prove how "adult" they are by getting drunk. Thinking people see more in Bullwinkle than non-thinking people do in Shakespeare. Thinking people don't use that greasy kid stuff. Thinking people have enough nerve to take a bite of that strange looking stuff on their plates. Thinking people know that work cannot be avoided. Are you a "thinking people"? We hope so.

Teenage Problems Are As Old As Man

By ELDON MASON

Abigail Van Buren, the advice-to-the-love-lorn columnist, once gave her opinion of codes for cities which want to better govern their teenagers. She said that the teens who needed the code would not obey it and that the ones who would obey it, didn't need it. This is one of the most concise and accurate analysis of teenagers' attitudes ever written.

Proof of this fact can be found even at CCHS. Early this year students neglected to place empty Coke bottles in the rack near the Coke machine. Instead they put them in the trash can, in lockers, on the floor, or anywhere else that was handy. As a result, the principal advised the students, with a few remarks over the intercom, to put the bottles in the rack or, if he found six more bottles, he would close the machine.

Since some students did not have enough sense to put the bottles in the rack in the first place, the warning was ignored and the machine was closed for a week. In fact, since the principal gave them this warning, a few of the students probably took some bottles out of the rack and put them on the floor just to show off.

Fortunately, few teenagers will do exactly the opposite of how they are advised, but fewer are able to find wisdom in an adult's advice.

Perhaps this is because they have often been told that they are young adults and "should conduct themselves accordingly." The teenager feels that an adult, whether young or old, should think for himself, make his own decisions, and govern his own actions, with his own society as his judge.

Consequently, teenagers do make their own decisions, think for themselves, and try to govern their actions. However, they are judged, not only by their fellow teenagers but by adults as well. Naturally a teenager will seek to be accepted by the society with which he is most closely associated and not the one which tells him he is a young adult and then, in the teenager's opinion, tells him how to run his life.

Since there exists a keen distinction between the adult world and a teenager's society, different sets of values exist in each. To an adult making a comfortable living is the most important thing in life. To a teenager, having fun is the most important thing to do. Most teenagers do not actually need a job because their parents can give them most of the money they require for clothes and pleasure. They get a job only to make up for what their parents cannot afford to give them.

Getting a job, in fact, seems to be one of the few ways in which a teenager will compromise with adults. Besides working for the money a job can provide, a teenager will work to show adults he is a responsible person, capable of holding down a job. Of course, the teenager is always aware of the fact that proving he is responsible opens the door on new privileges, such as getting the car more often and staying out later, which inevitably leads to more fun.

A wise man once wrote that if teenagers continue with their present behavior and attitude towards adults, the result would be chaotic. The man was Socrates in the fifth century B.C. Obviously the strain between the adult world and the teenage society has been going on for a long time and will probably go on for an even longer time. There has been found no cure for the situation and few compromises between the two generations, then, the result has not been chaotic, either, so the adults may find consolation with this article and teenagers may find it as another audacious sermon to scorn.

Seniors Make Annual Tour Of Corydon

The seniors made their annual tour of Corydon and visited many interesting sites. At the Corydon State Bank and the Old Capitol Bank and Trust Company the visitors saw new automated equipment in use. Both manual and electric printing machines, the big press printing the weekly paper, cutting it, and folding it made the visit to the Democrat office very interesting. The visit to the Ralston Purina Processing Plant was quite an experience for the class. After being crowned with paper hats, they saw poultry killed, plucked, cleaned, and packaged. The conveyor belt moves at high speed so that it takes one chicken three minutes to go through the process.

The tour also included visits to the Rock Quarry and Bill's Auto Parts where a demonstration of recapping tires was seen.

Lunch, served at the Corydon Christian Church, consisted of hot dogs, baked beans, potato salad, milk and cup cakes.

During the afternoon the group visited the Eureka Telephone Company and were interested in seeing in operation the key punch machines, calculators, tabulators, sorters, and other automated equipment. The day's tour was completed by visiting the various County offices in the Court House.

Who makes fun of another person does so either out of fear that they might have been like that person, or they are jealous because they are not.

FBLA ATTENDS BALL STATE

The Future Business Leaders, with their sponsor, Mrs. Fluhr, attended the annual FBLA convention at Ball State College in Muncie.

The CCHS members came home very victorious. Anita Fisher was elected state second vice president. Sheila Timberlake placed second in the public speaking contest.

The group won third place for its attendance.

The activities of the convention included public speaking, spelling and other business exhibits. In the evening there was a dinner after which there was installation of officers and the giving of awards.

Other girls attending were Judy Fisher, Connie Rainbolt, Alma Engleman, Alice Barks, Darlene Bentley, Becky Faith, Rosalyn Brown, Diana Gibson, Claudia Pate, Carol Sue Longacre, Jean Hoehn, Pat Stiles, Cheryl Haun, Lillian Lasley, and Sherry McKim.

Paula McCarty Is Y-Teen President

Paula McCarty was elected president of the Y-Teens for 1966-67 at their meeting April 18. Debbie Carter is vice-president and Linda Fulkerson is secretary-treasurer.

The Y-Teens spent Saturday, April 2, at the Y.W.C.A. in Louisville. During the morning they toured the building and then some of the girls went swimming in the pool while others played volleyball and table tennis.

At a luncheon with Louisville Y-Teen representatives the girls gained ideas of what other clubs do for programs and projects.

The girls made the trip in cars driven by Mrs. Dorothy Reimold, Mrs. Norma Rothrock, and Mrs. Delores McCarty. Those who went are Mary Mathes, Becky Eckart, Diane Reimold, Mona Rothrock, Linda Fulkerson, Paula McCarty, Linda Stamper, Rita Crane, Betty Kennison, Dianna Hunter, Sharon Curtis, Debbie Carter, Linda and Patty Wiseman, and Marilyn Pro-man.

Father Williams of St. Joseph's Catholic Church spoke at the regular Y-Teen meeting, April 4. He gave Meditations on Holy Week.

Teachers Entertain Future Teachers

The senior members of the Future Teachers were honored at a meeting of the Delta Kappa Gamma at Parkview Junior High School in Jeffersonville, Indiana.

Those students attending from CCHS were Rosalyn Brown, Kay Mitchell, Darlene Bentley, Linda Kirkham, Deanna Miller, Suzanne Windell, and Elizabeth Ward.

Teachers who accompanied the girls were Mesdames Frances Smith, Hilda Meyer, Wilma Windell and Faye McPhillips.

The program consisted of a senior girl from Charlestown who went to Europe as part of a 4-H agricultural program to help scientific methods of farming abroad. She showed slides of the urban and rural aspects of Germany, Denmark, Bulgaria, France, England, Rumania, Austria, and Czechoslovakia.

The interest of the F.T.A. was how our European counterparts felt about us, and how we as a teacher will have the immense job of preparing future students to deal with world problems.

The second part of the meeting was a talk by a first year teacher from Jeffersonville. The teacher drew a parallel between a war veteran and a school teacher. Each has battle victories and losses, but each also learns something whether it is that his work was in vain or that it was worth the effort.

Linda Kirkham Named Finalist In DAR Contest

Linda Kirkham, senior class president and Harrison County DAR Good Citizen, was named one of the top thirteen finalists in the state DAR Good Citizen contest out of more than a thousand other contestants in the state.

Linda and the other finalists were honored at a banquet at Wash College in Crawfordsville where the winner was announced. Accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Robert Kirkham and Mrs. Jesse S. Smith, Linda was seated at the banquet next to the guest speaker and mayor of Crawfordsville, William Hayes.

Judges of the essays stated that Linda's essay and her answers to high questions were rated exceptionally well among the other entries.

CCHS Is Host To Music Festival

Dr. Newell Long, and David Deeg, both from the Indiana School of Music, directed the fourth annual Harrison County Music Festival held April 22, at the Corydon Central High School.

Lanesville, Morgan, South Central, and Corydon bands and choruses took part in the concert and practiced hard all day for the evening performance. The lunches for the musicians were served in the Corydon cafeteria.

The chorus sang "Hallelujah," by Youmens, "Taps for two Brothers," by Cavavas, "Sound of Music," by Hammerstein, "Anywhere I Wonder," by Loesser, and "America Our Heritage," by Steeple.

The band numbers included "Corydon Overture," which has been written by Dr. Newell Long and will be presented at the Sesquicentennial pageant, June 23. Approximately 70 students selected from all the bands played the Overture. The band then played "Military Escort," by Bennett, "Introduction and Sarabande," by Locke, "Carnival of Roses," by Olivadotti, "Rumbah Numbah," by Bowles, "Basin Street Blues," by Williams, "Great Gate of Kiev," by Moussorgsky, and "Liberty Bell," by Sousa.

There were approximately 300 band members and 200 chorus students.

BPW Is Host To Seniors - FBLA

The Business and Professional Women's Club was host to the senior and FBLA girls March 28 at the Farm Bureau Insurance Office. A program on poise and charm was presented by a representative from Spencerian Business College. Those attending learned the correct way to sit, walk, and stand. They also learned that beauty on the inside is much more important than the outer beauty most people think is so important. Getting in and out of a car was also demonstrated.

After the meeting refreshments of hot tea and coffee and cookies were served by the BPW.

Senior and FBLA members who attended are as follows: Linda Adams, Alice Barks, Darlene Bentley, Judy Fisher, Donna Fravel, Linda Kintner, Judy Lippop, Vonda Melton, Connie Rainbolt, and Martha Yates.

Supt. Schneider Speaks To FFA At Awards Prog.

Mr. Schneider was the guest speaker at the annual Awards Night Program for the FFA, April 20.

FFA officers for the 1966-67 year were elected April 19 and introduced to approximately one hundred members, parents, and guests at the awards banquet. Bill Owen, junior, will lead the Future Farmers as president with Harold Bussabarger as vice-president; Jim McGraw, treasurer; Wayne Fravel, secretary; Dennis Kirkham, sentinel; and Mike Haggard, reporter.

Mr. Cecil Fravel, chairman of the Advisory Committee, presented the crop and livestock awards. Fred Miller, senior, won the dairy award and Wayne Fravel, junior, the swine. Bill Owen, junior, was presented the small grain, poultry and the hay awards. Jim Emily, senior, won the potatoes award. The beef award was presented to Joe Mattingly, senior. Merrille O'Bryan, senior, won the corn and Jim McGraw, junior, won the tobacco award.

Achievement Winners

Students recognized at the banquet for their achievements were Robert Hannel, selling $52 of seeds Dallas Garmon, Bob Feller, and Bill Dodds, selling over $43 of seeds. Jerry Hardsaw was announced winner of the Pest Killing Contest and the senior class as the team winners. The soil judging team consisting of Larry Faith, Wayne Fravel, Bill Owen, and Jim McGraw were also recognized.

Danny Sutherland, 1964-65 president and graduate of CCHS showed slides of the trip to Mexico he made last summer with Carl Mathes, also a 1964-65 graduate of Corydon. The trip, sponsored by the FFA, was made so that America's Future Farmers could train the Mexicans to use modern farm equipment.

Refreshments of pie, ice cream, and milk or coffee were served by Mrs. Glenna Windell with the help of Donna Fravel, Anita Fisher, Sherry Shaffer, Joyce Saulman and Janet Conrad. After refreshments, all the officers cleaned the cafeteria and kitchen.

The Star Farmer Award will be presented Awards Night, May 25.

Juniors Take Note

The State of Indiana has established a College Student Loan Program. This program will provide loans with a low rate of interest and liberal repayment terms. Loans will be made through banks and other lending institutions. A brochure briefly describing this program is presently at the printers. Copies for distribution to students will soon be in the guidance office. Anyone interested should see Mr. Norman.

The November administration of the College Entrance Examination Board (SAT portion) will be used in the determination of winners for the 1966-67 State Scholarship competition.

Many scholarships are available to students who have both the desire and scholastic ability to go to college. Mr. Norman can talk with any student who needs help in securing a college education.

There are four types of national loans that will be available to college enrollees in September 1966. They are College Work Study Program, Educational Opportunity Grants, Guaranteed Loans (a program of borrowing) and the National Defense Student Loan, another program for borrowing.

CCHS Is Well Represented In Queen Contest

As we go to press, girls from CCHS who are in the Pancake Queen Festival Contest are seniors Kay Mitchell, Connie Rainbolt, Deanna Miller, Sandy Shewmaker, and Suzanne Windell. Juniors in the contest are Anna Jean Burnner, Cheryl Haun and Lillian Lasley.

The girls will be judged in bathing suits, street clothes, and formal. After the parade, they will be interviewed publicly. The crowning will take place at 8:00.

Spencerian Representative Speaks On Qualifications

Spencerian representative, Mr. Cassidy, spoke to seniors on the advantages and qualifications of Spencerian College. He invited all those interested to contact him at Spencerian College.

GOLFERS WIN INVITATIONAL

The Golf team took its own invitational meet by beating five other good southern Indiana teams. The Panthers edged Salem by 4 strokes, 306 to 310. The team scores were as follows: Corydon 306, Salem 310, New Albany 313, Jasper 332, Tell City 335, and Clarksville 337.

Medalist for the meet was Jim Saunders of Salem with a two over par 70. Low man for the Panthers was Jack Miles with a three over par 71, followed by Alan Hess and Bill Kirkham with 75 and John Kirkham with 85. The low scores for the other teams were as follows: New Albany, Trusty 75; Jasper, Richard Seger, 77; Tell City, Jack Little 78, and Clarksville, Dale Croft 80.

The Panthers' only two losses this season came at the hands of Salem and Clarksville.

Bloomington Golf Meet April 30

The golf team will go to Bloomington this week end to participate in a golf match with eleven well-known and experienced teams: Bloomington, Bedford, Columbus, Freeburg, Northwest, Springs Valley, Brazil, Seymour, Shelbyville, Broad Ripple, and Southport. Panthers who will play are Bill Kirkham, John Kirkham, Alan Hess, and Jack Miles.

Dyer will be host May 6 for another golf meet.

THE 1966 CORYDON CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL baseball club still has several games to play before the end of the school term next month. Members of the team include, left to right, front row, Manager Joe Mattingly, David

Corydon Wins In Four Way Track Meet

The track team took first honors in a four way track meet which included Corydon, West Washington, Georgetown, and Lanesville. Corydon took 7 out of 14 first places in the meet besides having another record smashed in the mile run by Monty Schneider. The high jump and long jumps were won by Tom Butt. Bob Enlow won the pole vault by getting over 10'2". Corydon's John Powell and Ireland Scott took top honors as Powell won the high hurdles and Scott won the 440. Monty Schneider in the first meet of the season broke the old record set for the mile and then in the second meet broke it again by cutting his time from 4:41.1 to 4:40.3.

Panthers Place Second In B'town Relays

Corydon was outdistanced by Edinburg and tied for second with Brownstown in the first annual Brownstown Relays, held on the Brownstown track. Eight teams participated in the meet Friday night under the lights. Corydon was without the services of senior hurdler John Powell who came down with the flu and could not make the trip.

Both Corydon and Edinburg took places in 13 of the 16 events, but Edinburg's depth proved too much for the Panthers.

Corydon's versatile sophomore, Monty Schneider, who also has been hampered by a slight case of the flu, won the Steeplechase event in the time of 6:17 for Corydon's only first place of the night.

Schneider Breaks Salem's Mile Record

Monty Schneider broke Salem's mile record of 4:43. The record had not been broken for 18 long years since it was set in 1948 by Frank Cook of Corydon. Monty set the new record of 4:41.1 on a cold snowy 29 degree day.

The Panthers placed third in a triangular track meet with Salem and Seymour at Salem. Salem, favored as the top track team in the MSC, lived up to its rating by scoring a total of 61 points. Seymour, usually one of the stronger teams in Southern Indiana, placed second by piling up 44 points, most of these in field events. Corydon finished third with a total of 34 points.

All members of the Junior class were heartbroken to learn that on April 20, Mark Wiseman wrecked his tricycle.

While racing around a ninety degree turn, on the old Country Club road, Mark lost control of his motorcycle. He then made a three point landing in a neighboring field.

Trackmen Place Third After Disqualification

The Corydon Panthers finished second in a triangular meet with Brownstown and Scottsburg on Brownstown's track.

The last event was won by Corydon and the Panthers would have won the meet by 3 points, but they were disqualified in the last event, the half mile relay, and were placed third after finishing first in this event. This made second in the entire meet.

The final tally was Brownstown 68, Corydon 64, and Scottsburg 16.

Monty Schneider was our only double winner, taking both the mile and the half mile. Schneider was just two-tenths of a second off his school record with a time of 4:40.5. He had set the record in the Salem meet and broke it again in the quadrangular meet with 4:40.3. His record is the second best time in southern Indiana this season. Only Jay Hoover of Clarksville has a better time.

Clarksville comes here April 26 for a triangular meet with Austin.

Out of 14 events the Panthers had five firsts and several seconds, thirds, and fourths. Besides Schneider's two firsts, John Powell got a first in the high hurdles, Tom Butt got a first in the 100 yd. dash. Harold Chumley got the Panthers' other first by winning the 220.

Birthday Calendars

Birthday calendars are being sold by band members at a cost of fifty cents a calendar. To have a name listed costs twenty-five cents. The four types of listings include: birthdays, anniversaries, meetings of organizations, and the names of those serving in the armed forces. These will be marked in a special way. The band will receive approximately sixty per cent of the profits and this money will be used towards the purchase of the new band uniforms. A picture of the 1966 band will appear at the top of the calendar with the members dressed in their new uniforms.
