

Looking Backward

While the new year is the time to look into the future, a look into the past might be interesting and profitable to our students.

JANUARY

Debate Team and Speech students entered the Invitational Speech Contest at Eastern High School, Bloomfield, Indiana. Deanna Frederick won a third - place award in the humorous interpretation division.

Music students entered the district music contest at Evansville. Judy Bliss and Nylene Cotner won superior ratings and went on to the State Contest at Indianapolis. Kay Askren won a superior rating at the Hanover Instrumental Contest and went to Indianapolis where she received a superior rating.

Bruce Cabell went to Washington to serve as a page in the 88th Congress. The late President Kennedy personally presented Bruce with his diploma.

Jane Carden and John Winterkorn made top scores on the SAT test.

Corydon defeated previously unbeaten Morgan Township in the Holiday Tourney held here at Corydon.

FEBRUARY

A flu epidemic hit the school during the week of February 11. Absences ran up as high as 20 per cent.

Miss Moss began her student teaching here in social studies and physical education.

The Eastern High Debate Team from Bloomfield visited CCHS to debate free trade and mercy killing with our debate team.

MARCH

Joe Elliott was signed as Corydon's first head football coach in 50 years.

Five CCHS girls were chosen to attend Girls' State. They were Burlene Stepro, Barbara Kemp, Wanda Stevens, Libby Frederick, and Diana Grant.

Larry Miles and Richard Parker placed first in the Sectional Debate Contest and went on to the regional.

The FBLA attended the state convention at Ball State Teachers College.

The Panthers lost to Morgan in the Semi-Finals of the Salem Sectional.

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test was given to forty-six juniors.

APRIL

This month brought conscientious seniors awaiting the arrival of graduation. John Winterkorn led the senior class as valedictorian and Margaret Overton as salutatorian.

Paper backs were sold for the first time in the library during National Library Week.

Dennis Finn represented Corydon at the Annual World Affairs Institute in Cincinnati. He was sponsored by the local Rotary Club.

The Junior - Senior prom was held on the steamer Chaperon on April 21.

The Junior class play, "The Little Dog Laughed", was presented on April 19.

MAY

Mr. Edmund Schneider, principal at CCHS, was elected to the office of superintendent to replace Mr. Thomas Starr, who resigned to accept the superintendency at Tipton, Indiana.

Larry Miller was the first CCHS student to receive the $1,000 Kelder Scholarship.

Mr. Joseph Miles was chosen as assistant Football coach. He is also physical education director at the Junior High School.

A senior pageant replaced the

Those entering a sax quartet are as follows: Mary K. Hall, Linda Kirkham, Diana Gibson, and Deanna Miller.

senior wills and prophecies on Class Day.

Richard Parker was chosen junior representative to attend Boys' State.

Mr. Robert Criswell, World History teacher, resigned effective June 1. He entered the Princeton Theological Seminary this fall.

Wayne Guthrie, international columnist, was the speaker at the Commencement May 20.

SEPTEMBER

This year's enrollment reached an all-time high of 610.

Mr. Joe Elliott, World History teacher, and Mr. Larry Fluhr, mathematics teacher, joined the CCHS faculty.

The traditional junior and senior class plays were replaced by plays of the Dramatics Club, composed of members from all four classes.

OCTOBER

Corydon won its first football game of the season as they whipped the Salem Reserves 27-13.

The senior float, "Panther Uprising" placed second in the Halloween Parade.

The Drama Club presented their first play "The Courtship of Eddie's Father" with Teresa Norman and Bill Mathers playing the leads.

The senior picnic was held at the Harrison County State Forest.

NOVEMBER

James Anderson, Phil Merk, and Carol Pearson won National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test commendations. They have Letters of Commendation signifying their high performances on the NMSQT given last spring.

Shirley Dodds was elected to represent Corydon Central in the DAR Good Citizenship Contest.

The Student Council elected its officers. Linda Schwartz was elected president; Curtis Pearl, vice-president; Jenny Kirkham, secretary, and Judy Fisher, treasurer.

DECEMBER

The guidance department added a college previewer to aid college-bound students.

It was announced that the honor roll would be changed to include students having a B average.

The National Honor Society was officially organized. Phil Merk was elected president.

Superintendent Schneider listed the procedure for school closings due to emergencies and heavy snow.

The Future Nurses and the Y-Teens donated gifts for the needy of the county. The Future Nurses donated a sewing machine to the Harrison County Crusade School.

Sandra Mann Wins B. Crocker Award

Sandra M. Mann, a senior, is our school's 1964 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. She achieved the highest score here in a written knowledge and aptitude examination given Dec. 3, 1963. General Mills, Inc., sponsor of the program, will award her a "Homemaker of Tomorrow" pin to signify her achievement, and her test paper will be entered in competition for state honors.

Sandra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Mann, Route 4, Corydon. She has been a member of the FBLA and the Booster Club for 2 years. Sandra will major in English, home economics, and clerical work. She has minors in math and social studies.

The state Homemaker of Tomorrow will be awarded a $1,500 college scholarship and will be named a national finalist. Her school will be presented with a set of Encyclopedia Britannica, awarded by Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc. The state's second ranking girl will receive a $500 scholarship.

In the spring, state Homemakers of tomorrow, each accompanied by a school advisor, will enjoy an expense-paid educational tour to Colonial Williamsburg, Va., Washington, D. C., and New York City. The trip will be climaxed with the naming of the 1964 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow. She will be chosen on the basis of her original test score together with personal observation and interviews during the trip. Her scholarship will be increased to $5,000. National runners-up will receive $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships, respectively. All-time highs in the number of senior high school girls and schools enrolled marked this the tenth annual Betty Crocker Search pro-

Music Students Enter Hanover District Contests

Hanover District Solo-Ensemble Contest will be held January 25. Our students will be enrolled in solos, trios, quartets and sextets. Larry Day, Eddie Patterson and Halleck Mathews compose a trumpet trio; another trumpet trio entering will be Harold Hall, Halleck Mathews, and Neal Knight. Sandra Rhodes, Sandy Cunningham, Sarah Pindall and Bill Mathers make up the clarinet quartet. A clarinet sextet will be Sandra Rhodes, Bill Mathers, Sandy Cunningham, Teresa Norman, Kay Mitchell and Carol Miller. Deanna Miller, Linda Kirkham, Diana Gibson and Mary Hall will make up the saxophone quartet. Solos will be by Diana Gibson, alto sax; Dennis Stepro, trombone; Sandra Rhodes, clarinet; Carol Miller, contrabass clarinet; and Kay Askren, flute.

Rhoads, Mathers, Miller Attend Purdue Conference

Three members of our band were selected for the All Star Reading Band at Purdue University last Saturday, January 11. Selection of the students depended upon the need of instrumentation, class in school, and the recommendation of Mr. Thomas Trueblood, band director.

They were seniors Sandy Rhodes, clarinet; senior Bill Mathers, clarinet; and freshman Carol Miller, contrabass clarinet. The contrabass clarinet is a new instrument recently purchased for the band. The All Star Band consisted of 130 high school students selected throughout the state.

The Purdue University symphonic band gave a concert for the students in the afternoon. The band members sight read more than 30 new publications and performed under the baton of many conductors.

Mr. Trueblood accompanied the Corydon students.

More than 484,000 girls in 14,000 of the nation's schools participated. Since the program was launched, more than three and a half million girls have participated and scholarships approximating one million dollars have been awarded. The Betty Crocker Search is approved by the National Association of Secondary-School principals. Judging is by Science Research Associates of Chicago, nationally known educational publishing and testing organization.

Paperback Books Add Interest To Reading

Paperbound books are rapidly becoming popular with students here. Mrs. Wilma Gleitz, librarian, states that during the first semester $626.15 was spent by students in the purchase of these books. The cost of the paperbacks will average about fifty cents per book. The books are sold to the students at their cost price.

A large selection of all types, fiction, non-fiction, reference, etc., are for sale in the library. One student has collected a home library of nearly 100 paperback books.

In addition to students purchasing copies to read and to have in their own library, a number of books have been purchased for class study. Mrs. Elam's seniors will study Oedipus Rex and Separate Peace. All five classes of juniors have read Mark Train's Huckleberry Finn. One section of Mrs. Jones English III will read Scarlet Letter and Mrs. Kirkham's juniors will read On The Beach. Mrs. Reimold has selected for the sophomores, Pride and Prejudice, Light in the Forest, and Great Meadow.

Famous Pianist To Appear Feb. 10

The distinguished American pianist-conductor, William Haaker, will make an appearance here on February 10 to present his Memorable Musical Moments.

The Haaker story may well start, when, while in his early teens, William Haaker's pianistic talents drew the attention of the great Jose Iturbi. Iturbi has guided and inspired Haaker to his realized goal—hardly short of perfection itself.

After winning highest honors at Eastman, Haaker resided on the faculty of the University of Arkansas, resigning under the pressure of a day in, day out, concert career that followed his two New York and two Boston recitals, given within a year. In 1948, Haaker drew special attention when he flew on hour's notice to Troy, Alabama to substitute for the canceled Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

His Youth Series of Symphony Concerts have met with exciting success and each season, Haaker allots special time for piano recitals for young America. His is one of informality and dignity as a trinity of composer, performer, and audience meet in a Haaker appearance.

OPINIONS

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

The honor roll system that was recently adopted here naturally has advantages, or it would not have been considered. However, there is one distinct disadvantage that could mean disaster. Before this new system, many students have tried their hardest to get their name on the honor roll. Under the new system a student can make a "C" and still be honor roll material considering he has an "A" to average with the "C".

Will some students not lose some of their initiative? When students know that they don't have to work as hard, a large percentage will do only what they have to do to get by.

An honor roll should be what its name indicates—a list of students that deserve honor for their work. A "C" is an average grade, but it is not an honor grade.

It seems that when a student is on the honor roll with any kind of a "C", the honor roll should be renamed.

Respectfully yours,
Nancy Kirkham

Dear Editor,

The new honor roll system has been accepted with different views among the students. Some favored it highly, but others have not been so optimistic.

I think that the new system is a great improvement. I believe that students will now have a better chance to receive recognition for their accomplishments. Under the old system, the honor roll was limited to students making "straight A's" and "B's." Now a student with a "C" can counter-balance it with his other grades. Students will probably be inclined to work harder, because now they know that a "C" in one subject does not mean that they won't make the honor roll. This way a person will try to improve his other grades, so that if he has a lower grade, it can be averaged in and still make him eligible for the roll.

Also, students who have wanted to take certain academic subjects and thus far have been afraid to do so, may be encouraged to try these and also try for an academic diploma.

The new honor roll system is a very good thing, and I am eager to see the effects of it.

Sincerely yours
Linda Becker

Orientation Program Will Begin With Tests

Mr. Norman, guidance counselor, has announced placement tests will be given to pupils in the four eighth grades—Corydon, New Middletown, Heth - Washington, and Saint Joseph—in the near future to help determine the child's past achievement and to help the counselor to make recommendations for the selection of high school courses.

This is a part of the orientation program of the high school for all incoming students.

In the spring, Principal Saulman and Mr. Norman will visit each school and advise or make suggestions for the students to take home to their parents in regard to their high school course of study.

Mr. Norman is now explaining differential aptitude tests to each Freshman. These are a measure of aptitude and not of achievement.

Beginning the second semester, Mr. Norman will explain the Iowa Test of Educational Development scores to all juniors. This is a measure of achievement of the students for the past ten years and an excellent predictor of college aptitude.

Principal Saulman Explains Change In Honor Roll

A new honor roll system has been introduced here to begin the second semester. Our former system honored only those students who made A's and B's; these students' names, as well as their grades, were published in the Pantherette and in both Corydon local papers. In the following article, Principal Saulman explains the reasons for this change:

The present system of having all A's and B's is good, but the faculty feels that some students have such a desire to be on the honor roll that they sacrifice knowledge for grades. That is, certain people elect to take "easy" subjects to insure themselves a grade of an A or B.

The proposed system is simply this: to qualify for the honor roll a student must be taking at least 4 solid subjects and make an average of B, with no grade below a C. This means that a student making a C would need an A in another subject to have a B average.

The printing of grades is also to be discontinued, because it is felt that if it is clearly understood that everyone on the honor roll has at least a B average, the printing of grades is not necessary.

This is being put into effect to encourage more of our students to elect some of the more difficult courses and to secure for our graduates a higher quality of education.

Teachers, Pupils Make Resolutions

All seniors in English IV—to get earlier starts and work harder on their term papers for second semester.

Corydon Panthers—not to get swell-headed over their victories on the basketball court.

Bill Davis—to think up fool-proof class-cutting excuses to give Mrs. Elam.

Mr. Cato—to bring ear muffs so he can wear them during home room period with the seniors in the library.

Darryl Hauswald—to sleep more

Freshmen Compose Prayers To Athene

As part of their study of Homer's epic poem, The Odyssey, Mrs. Elam's T.V. English I classes were assigned to write a prayer to the goddess Athene. These prayers were to be written in the manner of Odysseus, hero of The Odyssey, reflecting the rhythm, mood, and feeling toward the gods which Odysseus himself might have used. The first of the three poems below was written by freshman Mary Brockman, the second by Becky Webb, and the third by Brooks Rainbolt.

"Great Athene, goddess of wisdom, send forth Against this room a brain storm A raging tempest, enshrouded In A's and B's. Deep thought Come rolling from on high. Make our pencils Drive headlong, while our papers are riven Asunder by a gale, O please Help us in these desks, still toiling In dread of F's, and striving ever."

"O wise and cunning Athene hear my plea for knowledge and wisdom, Help me, your servant, to gain An excellent mark. Give to me the memories Of our studied text, So that I may know the answers. Let me know the questions That I may answer them well. Help me to express myself clearly. Aid me in answering fully All questions. This, O wise Athene, is My prayer to you For aid."

"There came a time of testing, when one would drain, his sulking brain, for knowledge.

And so; to Athene, wondrous Goddess of knowledge, I thus prayed, Athene, great immortal Goddess, hear my hideous plea with pity.

Shine, your illustrious beams of wisdom on me, that I may pass this period, with courage.

Mortal men, may plan and plot, to rob his equal man, of his own well-toiled answers.

I ask, only for the courage, of a Goddess, to help me conceive my own, answers. May Zeus and Neptune bid you help me.

soundly in study hall so he'll be wide awake for government class the next period.

Jimmy Smith—to be kinder to his fellow-men.

Time For Study Is Now

After graduating from high school and getting a taste of college life, nearly every graduate will inevitably express the same regret: that of not having studied harder and having taken complete advantage of his educational opportunities while still in high school.

Many of the present college-bound students in high school ignore these warnings and seem to pride themselves on how little they study. It seems these students never stop to think how instrumental their grades will be in gaining admission to college. With the ever-mounting rate of people wishing to attend college, high grades are an absolute necessity to be accepted.

But what about the students who are able to make good grades without studying? Why should they waste their time? The answer is simple. College is quite different from high school and very few, if any, ever graduated from college without a great deal of study. The knowledge of the right way to study is invaluable in college, and it can be attained only by practice throughout high school.

The importance of good study habits can not be over-emphasized even for those whose future plans do not include college. For these students, learning as much as possible in high school is extremely important. Finding a good job without a college education is difficult, and when your high school grades are low it is nearly impossible.

Every student should wake up now and realize that the advice he has been hearing on how important it is to study, isn't just idle talk. It is much better to learn now than to wait until you get to college. By then, it may be too late.

Winter Driving Conditions Demand Alert Drivers

Driving on winter's icy and snowy roads is not a matter of just doing what comes naturally.

It takes experience and a lot of knowledge to become a winter-wise driver. One very important question is "How to go on ice and snow?" —The right answer can mean the difference between life and death. Almost anyone can learn to drive on ice and snow, they say, and this is true. But, too many drivers think that wheeling a two-ton mass of metal on slippery winter roads is as easy as gliding smoothly around a dance floor with a pretty girl. In a word, they are both difficult jobs to do well.

Ahead of us lies one of the most hazardous seasons of the year, weather-wise. Slick pavements resulting from freezing rain, sleet, snow and ice, plus the longer hours of darkness that span both the morning and evening peak traffic periods, create additional traffic hazards for all motorists on the streets, roads and highways of Indiana. It would be wise, therefore, for every driver to make a mental check of his or her driving ability to see how well they measure up to the correct observance and practice of the basic winter driving techniques.

Driving safely on winter roads is certainly not an idle pastime for "armchair experts" — it takes a lot of actual, behind-the-wheel practical experience to drive on ice or snow. Safety experts say that the six primary hazards of winter driving are (1) Inadequate traction to go (2) Reduced ability to stop (3) Effect of lowering and rising temperatures on starting and stopping (4) Accumulated ice and snow made more slick by traffic (5) Reduced ability to see and be seen (6) Recognition of the special hazards of winter driving—and the ability to know and cope with the techniques needed to drive safely, in spite of them.

Intelligence - Word Tests Are Given To Students

Corydon Central High School was selected by Harcourt, Brace, and World Inc., to participate in the Equaling Program for the Quick Word Test. This program was planned with two considerations in mind.

1. To provide cooperating school systems with a measure of mental ability for every student in the grades tested.
2. To provide the authors and publisher of the Quick Word Test with information for equating the Quick Word Test to several widely used intelligence tests.

These tests were divided into three parts: two twenty-minute word tests and one forty-minute Thorndike Intelligence Test.

D. Eastburn Places Fourth In Finals Of Speech Contest

The Debate Club and English III and IV students attended the Invitational Speech Contest at Eastern High School, Bloomfield, Indiana, January 11. David Eastburn won a fourth place in the finals in the Bible reading division.

Others who attended were Jenny Kirkham, round table discussion on Medicare; David Miller, Johnson's "The Creation" in dramatic interpretation; Carolyn Giesler, "A Study of Two Women", taken from Stephen Benet's John Brown's Body, in the same division; Terry Walts and Bobby Benton, radio announcing; Richard Parker, oratory; and Bill Lang, humorous interpretation.

The group was accompanied by Mrs. Elam, the sponsor, and Mr. Fluhr.

Medicare Is Debate Topic

Members of the Debate Club gave a debate January 14 before the Rotary Club. The topic was "What Should Be The Role of The Federal Government in Providing Complete Medical Care For All Citizens?"

Jenny Kirkham and Linda Schwartz debated the negative, with Terry Walts and Robert Benton debating the affirmative. Each speech was five minutes long with three minute rebuttals.

Names In The News

Ben Casey and Doctor Kildare will soon have sufficient nurses. Patricia Deatrich, Donna Schillmiller, Virginia Robertson, Marjorie Flora, and Rosa Ferree arrived in Louisville, January 11, where the University of Louisville administered the pre-nursing entrance examination.

The test was divided into seven groups: arithmetic, chemistry, spelling, reading comprehension, verbal, social studies, and science.

Patricia and Rosa plan to attain their nurses training at St. Mary and Elizabeth's Hospital; Donna and Virginia, St. Joseph's; and Marjorie Flora at the General Hospital in Louisville.

Senior Barbara Hays took a pre-nursing entrance test Friday and Saturday January 17 - 18 at the Grant Hospital School of Nursing in Chicago where she hopes to attend next autumn.

The pre-nursing examination was four hours long and consisted of arithmetic, chemistry, spelling, reading speed and comprehension, a general aptitude test, and a psychometric test. Barbara's two days in Chicago also included a personal interview, measurement for uniforms, and a physical examination.

Libby Frederick was interviewed at Norton's Hospital in Louisville on January 16. She was interviewed by the head technologist for approximately an hour and a half. Libby is seriously considering becoming an X-ray-technologist after graduation.

Dwight Bennett made his second appearance on the local television show "High Varieties" on January 18. He sang "Whispering" and played his guitar.

Crash! Bang! These are some of the sounds Delores Mitchell and Diana Windell heard when they were in an auto accident recently. Delores was uninjured but Diana Windell will be wearing a cast for some time.

January seems to be providing quite a number of problems beside gobs of snow and auto accidents. Just ask Anna Jo Matthews and her family. Her brother, sister, and mother are in the Harrison County Hospital suffering from pneumonia. CCHS hopes they are soon well.

Whistling Artist To Present Program

The world's foremost whistling artist acclaimed everywhere as a recording star, concert artist, and TV personality, Fred Lowery will appear before an assembly on February 17.

Fred Lowery, was at one time a violinist and through his love for the hobby of whistling, came upon an important discovery. He had discovered something that was soon to have the entertainment world acclaim him as one of the most unusual acts in show business. On commercial jingles you can hear the whistling of Mr. Lowery.

He has appeared with such people as Bob Hope, Steve Allen, Jackie Gleason, and others. His many hit recordings are known the world over. His records, such as "Indian Love Call," (which sold two million copies), "The High and the Mighty," have reaped fantastic successes.

Fred Lowery has parlayed his love for whistling into an important lucrative, professional business. Whistlers from every country have acclaimed him as a phenomenon and properly dubbed him "King of Whistlers." His whistling was imitated, but never duplicated.

Supt. Schneider, Principal Saulman Speak At FTA

Superintendent Schneider was the guest speaker at the Future Teachers of America on January 21. Mr. Schneider's speech was "An Understanding of the Teaching Profession". In the main points of the speech, he compared the teaching profession to that of other careers. The salaries and advantages of the profession were pointed out to the students. An expected increase in salaries was predicted for teachers in the future. Mr. Schneider also explained the advantages and disadvantages of the different levels of teaching.

Mr. Saulman was the guest speaker to the group on December 17. His topic was "A Forward Look at the Teaching Profession". He outlined the need for the expansion of education and the need for new teachers. Mr. Saulman also emphasized the need for efficient competent teachers to instruct our young people.

Adult Ed. Classes Begin 2nd Semester

The adult education classes have started again. Mrs. Phyllis Wolfe and Mr. John Miller are teaching the classes in Business English and Bookkeeping, respectively. Lucy Brown, Charles Cropper, Doris Enlow, Robert Gleitz, Edna Haas, Sherrie Kopp, Katherine Kintner, Virginia Reed, Etta Rowland, Rosa Rowland, Janet Taylor, Cecil Trobaugh, and Buddy Troncin are enrolled in the Business English class.

Student Council To Revise Constitution

The Student Council held a meeting January 20. The club decided to rewrite their constitution. A Constitution Committee and a By-Laws Committee were appointed. On the Constitution Committee are Russell Bentley, Jenny Kirkham, and Judy Fisher. Ray Tuley, Kathy Kline, and Curtis Pearl, and Randy Leuty are on the By-Laws Committee.

The club also decided to have Mr. Norman consult the faculty about having weather announcements about school broadcasted on WAKY instead of WAVE. The club felt that more students listen to this station than WAVE.

FBLA Discusses Commercial Subjects

A panel discussion on the enrollment of commercial subjects in high school was presented on January 23 at the regular meeting of the FBLA. Phyllis McMonigle and Linda Cavins presented the affirmative; Linda Feller and Janice Mauck, negative. Much of the information and data came from interviews with Mrs. Bruner, Mr.

Art Room Takes On A New Look

The Art Room, 206, has a brand new look. The high metal desks with stools that were used in mechanical drawing have been replaced by new plastic tops desks with cushioned chairs. Each table seats two students plus extra room for books and other needed articles.

The new equipment is being used by Mrs. Eckart's art classes. During the past month, the art students have been working with charcoal, creating some very artistic designs. Also some of the students have made various stitch-work designs by sewing colored thread on pieces of burlap sacks.

The Art Club, also under the supervision of Mrs. Eckart, are making Valentine favors for the patients in the Harrison County Hospital. The favors, being made of white doilies and construction paper, will be placed on the food trays of the patients.

Saulman, Mr. Norman, Mr. Miller, and Mrs. Wolfe.

The club has also been engaged this last week in selling carnations for the Salem basketball game. The carnations are white with black and gold ribbons. Profits from the sale of these flowers will go to the funds for the FBLA State convention.

Panthers Race Toward Best Season On Record

Corydon Eyes Mid-Southern Crown Downs Silver Creek And Generals

Silver Creek was the twelfth victim of the raging Panthers as Corydon defeated a highly rated Dragon team 74-61. This was an important win for the Panthers giving them a 4-0 Mid-Southern Conference record and a tie with Mitchell for the lead.

Led by Woody Bailey and Ronnie Allen with five points each, the Dragons ran up a 20-15 lead on the Panthers in the first period. Bouncing back, Corydon, behind Jenkins' and Fried's scoring, was able to take the lead at intermission, 37-36.

During a slow third quarter the Panthers were able to outscore Silver Creek 11-9 and lead 48-45 as the quarter ended. With Fried once again showing the way, Corydon threw in 26 points while holding Silver Creek to 16.

The Panthers once again showed balanced scoring with four players in double figures. Fried led scoring with 19 while Withers, Jenkins, and Cato threw in 15, 14, and 12 points respectively. Ronnie Allen led the losers with 17 points.

Corydon took the undisputed lead in the Mid-Southern Conference race by downing the Clarksville Generals 88-72. This was the Panthers fifth conference victory in as many starts.

The Panthers quickly took the lead and never looked back. In the first quarter Cato and Withers combined for 11 points as the Cats sprang to an 18-13 first quarter advantage. The second period Corydon poured in 25 points to Clarksville's 15 to hold a sizeable 43-28 halftime lead. Clarksville had cut the Corydon lead to 6 in the third stanza when Bill Davis came off the bench and started a Panther rally by hitting his first five shots. In the final period Davis threw in four more baskets as the Panthers eased to an 88-72 victory.

H. V. Withers was the game's top scorer with 24. Fried followed Withers in scoring for the Panthers with 19, Davis playing less than a half connected on 9 of 13 shots for 18 points. Franz led Clarksville in scoring with 18.

CORYDON NIPS G'TOWN 67-65

The Panthers made it eight in a row December 20 by handing previously unbeaten Georgetown a 67-65 loss. One of the largest crowds in Georgetown's history was on hand to watch the two remaining unbeaten in this area fight to the wire.

The fired-up Bearcats garbled a 9-6 lead in the first quarter and led 13-11 as the period ended. Corydon tied the score 22-22 in the second quarter, but Georgetown broke away to a 27-22 lead. As the half ended the Bearcats held a 33-30 advantage. Led by hot-shooting Joe Cato, Corydon hit 9 of 21 shots to capture a 52-49 lead as the third period ended. As the fourth quarter began, the Panthers' lead jumped to 56-51, but Georgetown came back strong to lead 58-56. Then came six straight points by the Panthers that put them in the lead for good. With four seconds remaining in the game, Corydon led 67-65 when the Panthers committed an error. Luckily, however, the Bearcats were unable to score.

Jack Fried led all scorers with 23 points. Jack Fried also did a good rebounding job pulling off 21. Roger Harritt was high scorer for the losers with 19.

Georgetown J. V.'s defeated the Cubs 50-41. The Cubs now have a 5-3 record. Heid of Georgetown was high point man for the game with 21 points. Pendleton led Corydon with 12. Preston and Cochran supported him with 11 points apiece.

Louisville Visitors Get Bad Reception

The Corydon Panthers won their eleventh game in twelve starts by defeating Atherton 79-66 January 4 at Corydon.

The Rebels stayed in the game for about a quarter but soon lost sight of the superior Panthers. Corydon led at all stops, 18-13, 39-25, 55-43, and 79-66. The game was rather rough with two boys being ejected from the game.

Fried led the victors with 22 points and followed by Withers and Cato with 15 points each. Bill Petrie and Dave Johnson led Atherton with 20 and 16 points.

Coach John Miller's Cubs broke out of a three game losing streak by whipping the Atherton J. V.'s 42-37. Cochran and Preston were the big guns for the Cubs with 11 and 10 points. Bunton had 10 to lead the losers.

PANTHERS FINALLY BEATEN BY HOT-SHOOTING WARRIORS

The Corydon Panthers suffered their first and only defeat of the season 81-79 at the hands of an inspired Scottsburg team in the first game of the Scottsburg Invitational Tournament Friday December 27. This win for the Warriors avenged a 21-point defeat handed them earlier this season by the Panthers.

The Panthers, led by Roger Jenkins, jumped to a 19-14 during the first quarter. The next four minutes, however, were far from helpful to the Panthers. As Corydon went cold, the Warriors caught fire and scored 18 straight to hold a 32-19 lead with six minutes left in the second stanza. The Panthers, behind Roger Jenkins and Jack Fried, cut away at this lead and cut it to 43-36 with about a minute remaining in the half.

As the half ended the Panthers trailed 47-38. Fried and Jenkins led Corydon through the first half with 14 and 13 points respectively, while John Gladstein threw in 16. As the second half got underway the Panthers came back strong and cut the Warrior lead to 5 early in the period, once again Scottsburg bounced back to take a 52-44 lead. Withers then lead a Panther charge which cut the score to 57-54. This charge was repelled, however, and the Warriors led 64-58 as the quarter ended. As the final stanza started Gladstein hit for Scottsburg to give them an 8-point lead. Withers then took charge and in the next 3½ minutes threw in 10 points to put the Panthers on top 70-69 with about 4 minutes left in the game. Corydon maintained its lead until 2 minutes left in the game, when Carter and Everitt hit for Scottsburg to give the Warriors a 79-75 lead with a little over a minute remaining. Quick baskets by Merk and Wolfe netted the score 79-79 with 6 seconds remaining. A quick inbound pass to Carter proved fatal to the Panthers as he was fouled trying for the game winning basket. With 2 seconds remaining, he calmly sank 2 free throws to kill the Panthers hope.

Corydon had four men in double figures led by H. V. Withers with game high 25 points. He was followed by Jenkins, Fried, and Cato with 17, 16, and 11 respectively. Gladstein led Scottsburg with 23, followed by Everitt with 20 and Carter with 17.

Panthers Ease Past Salem For Ninth Win

The Panthers slipped past the Salem Lions 62-54 in the consolation game to raise their season mark to 9 wins, 1 loss.

Jack Fried and Joe Cato shot Corydon into an early first quarter lead 19-8 but with Elmer Smith showing the way, Salem charged back to tie the score 29-29 at half-time. In the second half Roger Jenkins' shooting and Phil Merk's defense of Smith spelled defeat for the Lions as the Panthers eased to a 56-48 win.

Joe Cato lead the Panthers with 15 points and Roger Jenkins, playing another fine game, captured runner-up honors with 12. Smith paced the losers with 23 points.

Conference Banners Are Added To Gym

The new Mid-Southern Conference banners hanging in the gym were purchased by the C-Club. Each one of the ten banners represent one of the Mid-Southern Conference teams. They are made in the colors of the team in the conference with the names of the team on them. The Mid-Southern Conference consists of the following: Brownstown, Scottsburg, Clarksville, Charlestown, Salem, Paoli, Austin, Mitchell, Silver Creek and Corydon.

Late Rally By Cats Beats Providence

Corydon rallied in the fourth quarter to down a big Providence team 75-65 on January 3 on the Panthers home court.

With Jack Fried carrying most of the first half load, the Panthers came out on the short end of a 29-28 score.

In the third quarter Providence managed to push their advantage to 8 points but had to settle for a 6 point lead as the third quarter ended.

By using a zone press, Corydon forced their taller opponents into many errors. By taking advantage of these errors and Providence's fouls the Panthers scored 30 points while holding the Pioneers to 14 points. Dumont Wolfe and Joe Cato were constant thorns in Providence during the press as both made several steals leading to quick baskets.

Fried and Withers lead the Cats with 23 and 22 points. Wolfe and Cato added 11 and 10 points for the winners. Jack Wayne nabbed 17 to pace the losers. He was supported by Colin and Blunk who each had 14 points.

Panthers Take Springs Valley

The Corydon Panthers ran their win streak to 6 straight by whipping the Blackhawks of Springs Valley on January 18 by the score of 72-60.

The players that made this win possible were Duke Wolfe and Roger Jenkins. Wolfe returned to early season form by throwing in 21 points which consisted mostly of short jumpers. Jenkins controlled both boards by pulling down 21 rebounds.

With Cato and Wolfe scoring 13 of Corydon's 17 points, the Panthers took a 17-11 first quarter lead. Wolfe threw in 8 points in the second period to lead Corydon to a 34-24 half time advantage. During the third quarter the Blackhawks fought back and outscored the Panthers 22-19 to trail 53-46. In the last period Springs Valley pulled within one point of the Panthers, but was repelled and defeated 72-60.

Balanced scoring once again paid off for the Panthers as they had four men in double figures. Wolfe led with 21 and Fried, Withers, and Cato had 19, 17, and 10 markers respectively.
