Pantomime - Plays Choral Readings Entertain Students

The one-act plays, given by members of the Dramatics Club were "Supermarket Blues" and "Let Sleeping Beauty Lie." Ann Pinaire, Tim Kirkham, Randy Leuty, Barbara Baxley, Bob Benton and Suzanne Windell comprised the cast of "Supermarket Blues." The characters in "Let Sleeping Beauty Lie" were Terry Walts, Tim Kirkham, Ronnie Kelle, Mike Shireman, Max Rusk, Randy Leuty, and James Mathes.

Members of the Speech II class gave a choral reading on John Brown's Body and a poem entitled "Gong and Gavel." Students who read were Max Rusk, Jenny Kirkham, William Lang, Vera Richard, Barbara Baxley, Bob Watson, Donnie Conrad, Nancy Ernstberger, Tim Kirkham, Vicky Alexander, Pat Kirkham and Helen Leffler.

The pantomime on "Romeo and Juliet" was presented by members of Mrs. Elam's freshman English Class. Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet, as written, was read by Bill Kirkham and Ellen Olson. Shakespeare, brought up to date, was portrayed by Becky Brown, John Kirkham, Monty Schneider, and Mike Monahan.

Student Council Sponsors New Prog.

The Student Council has suggested a procedure that will be followed at ball games and assembly programs in the future. This procedure has to do with our respect for the flag at group gatherings. As was suggested in Mr. Saulman's own assembly program a few weeks ago, our school has unconsciously drifted away from these procedures. It is hoped that by listing these procedures, students will act properly at group gatherings in the future.

At ball games students will be expected to do the following: stand, face the flag, hands at side, and sing the national anthem. It was concluded by the Student Council that by singing, many of the students would not be tempted to talk and disturb others. Also during the National Anthem, only the cheerleaders have the option of placing their hands over their hearts.

Also, at assembly programs the pledge of allegiance will be recited by the student body before the program begins. A representative of the Student Council will lead the student body. The procedure for the assembly programs will be as follows: stand, face the flag, option of putting right hand over heart, and recite the pledge of allegiance.

Language Lab Is Ready For Use

The new DuKane Language Lab, which will be used in the French and Spanish classes, has been installed and is ready for use. The lab contains thirty individual booths, four of which contain tape recorders. The students, who will be able to make their own tapes and play them back, will use the recorders for make up work, conversation practice, and advanced work.

The teacher's console is equipped so that a master tape can be played and heard by the students in each soundproof booth. As the students give the responses, the teacher can listen to the whole class, one row, or one individual student. The students have no way of knowing whether or not the teacher is tuned in on them.

The lab, which is for the purpose of proficiency in speaking and comprehending, has several other advantages. Since the student has no way of knowing whether the teacher is listening, he does not get as upset or nervous when re-sponding. The teacher can talk directly to one student, which makes it possible to correct one person without the others hearing. Also, while the teacher is working with one student, the others are occupied. The lab is excellent for picking up sounds in language and it gives more chances to listen to a native speaker of the language.

The booths are collapsible and can be made into a regular classroom. The ideal time for class use is twenty minutes per day.

April 23

I Remember Mama Will Be Presented By Dramatics Club

"I Remember Mama", a comedy by John Van Druen, adapted from Kathryn Forbes' "Mama's Bank Account", will be presented by the Dramatics Club, April 23.

The story is that of Mama, who, with the help of her husband and Uncle Chris, brings up her children in their modest San Francisco home during the early years of the century. Mama, a sweet and capable manager, sees her children through childhood, manages to educate them and to see one of her daughters begin her career as a writer. Mama's sisters and uncle furnish a rich background for a great deal of comedy and a little incidental tragedy, while the doings of the children manage to keep everyone in pleasant turmoil.

Latin Students Attend Banquet

Members of the Latin classes attended the annual Roman Banquet on March 12 from 4:00 to 5:00 P.M., the Romans' traditional hour of dining. The students, dressed in the style of the ancient Romans, dined in the style of ancient Rome. The girls, who were auctioned off before the banquet by Mike Monahan, served the boys who reclined on mats to eat. They were served fish, ham, oysters, celery, carrots, deviled eggs, apples, and wine (grape juice). Games, which usually follow the banquet, were omitted this year because the boys were much too full and the girls were much too tired.

The banquet will probably be the only social event for the Latin classes. The first year classes will soon start the second year book and the second year class is already reading Cicero, normally read in the third year.

Band Parents Will Sponsor Date Calendar

Band members will be in all home rooms Monday, March 29, to take orders for calendars that the band parents will have for sale in 1966.

The calendars will sell for fifty cents and will feature birthdays and the dates of club meetings which any organization pays to have listed. Price for listing any date will be twenty-five cents.

The calendar will feature a picture of the band on the cover; the color will be rustic red and black.

Proceeds from the sale of the calendars will be applied on the cost of new uniforms for the band members.

Mrs. Dorothy Reimold is president of the Band Parents group. They have operated the eating concession at the basketball and football games in recent years.

Latin students, Opal Coleman, Becky Weber, Diane Hunter, and Norma Windell, display the Roman costumes which they wore to the Latin Banquet.

Field Trip Planned By Industrial Arts

The industrial arts classes will go on an all day field trip, April 14. They will visit International Harvester. This is the first major educational tour the industrial arts classes have taken in three years.

The purpose of this tour is (1) to motivate each student planning a vocation in industry, (2) to vitalize the industrial arts curriculum, (3) to develop character traits, such as the ability to cooperate, to obey the rules which each student helps to formulate, and to conduct themselves properly in public places. All these objectives help to produce good citizens.

OPINIONS

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

At a recent assembly Mr. Saulman mentioned that he thought the tradition of saying the Pledge of Allegiance and singing a patriotic song should be revived at future assemblies. I couldn't agree with him more. I feel that it is about time we did something to show our esteem for our country. We Americans are all too prone to slack in our complacency in everything we do. We settle for second best in grades, sports, and in our work, rather than strive for the very best possible. This complacency is also evident in our attitude toward our patriotic duties. The percentage of registered voters who didn't bother to go to the polls last November is evidence in itself that there are millions of unconcerned Americans. A great many voters feel that their interest and votes are of little value and won't change anything. But this is the wrong attitude. The more people interested in our American government the safer it is from Communism. We as students can't show our interest by voting simply because we are not yet twenty-one, but we can do our part in another way. We can show our love for America by taking the time to pledge our allegiance to the country which God allowed to become so great and powerful as to have the responsibility of caring for the world's conscience. As Mr. Saulman said, I believe that the Student Council should start working on this idea as soon as possible and that we should begin the practice of saying the Pledge of Allegiance at our next assembly.

ELIZABETH WARD

Dear Editor,

During the last few years, there has been an Honor Society for the academically outstanding students of Corydon Central High. Why has this been discontinued?

Many people oppose it because it is limited to students who make the best grades. Is this a substantial reason? Only the outstanding athletes are allowed to represent our school in sports. No one thinks it unreasonable that every boy in school is not on the varsity.

The purpose of the school is to provide a means of learning. Therefore, the student deserves recognition if he fulfills this purpose. In life, the outstanding people are rewarded for their accomplishments in one way or another. The basketball players' skills are rewarded by a trophy for their team. The students here have no reward during the regular school year for their efforts.

The students should not feel hurt because he is refused a membership. He can earn a membership by working hard and making good grades. If he does not consider himself good enough for the Honor Society, then he'd better think again about his ability to stay in college.

A CONCERNED STUDENT

Ed. Note

The Corydon Central Chapter of the National Honor Society has not been intentionally discontinued. The administration has inquired with the headquarters in Washington but has received no correspondence explaining the omission of CCHS from the mailing list.

Dear Editor:

I would like to see the method of electing class officers amended at CCHS. The present method we use does not, in my opinion, spark any desire or reap much honor for the student seeking to become a class officer.

The student wanting to become a class officer must do the following: (1.) secure a list of ten names from students in the same class, (2) have a C-plus average, and

Asian Flu Hits
CCHS Teachers

The Asian flu has attacked again and this time the teaching staff of CCHS is the victim instead of the student body, as it was over two years ago when about a fourth of the enrollment was absent.

So far five teachers were forced to miss because of the "bug". Miss Eskew was out three days; Mrs. Reimold, two days; Mr. Bickel, two days. Flu doesn't seem to have any discretion as to in state or out of state teachers because Miss Harrison and Mrs. DeFoor, our out of state teachers, were gone a day and two days respectively.

Student Council To Sponsor Talent Show

The Student Council is planning to sponsor a talent show open to all classes. The program will be presented for the student body the middle of April. Students wishing to participate should contact their student council representative on or before April 5. Recruiters for the four classes are as follows: Freshman, Monty Schneider; Sophomores, Sherry Shaffer; Juniors, Randy Leuty; Seniors, Linda Cavins and Jenny Kirkham.

Art Club Will Make
Picture Scrapbooks

The Art Club has just finished making puppets for the Harrison County Crusade School at Palmyra. Their new project is making scrapbooks for the convalescent. These books will be filled with colorful scenes. The Art Club plans to make about a dozen.

(3.) be elected by their class. Does this sound to you like a system which insures the best qualified will be elected? With this system, do the students feel they have worked hard and deserve their titles when and if they are elected?

In other schools students work for their positions by giving a short campaign speech in front of their class. Why can't we work out a variation of that system here? I think all students running for the presidency of their class at least, should be compelled to give a campaign speech. A student should be made to work for the position of class officer; if he is unwilling to work, he is undeserving of that position.

TERRY WALTS

Dear Editor:

What is happening to our school? Haven't the students of CCHS any respect or courtesy? Do we consider ourselves to be above even the teachers?

Students, you may be tired of hearing or reading about this, but it will be continued until every one of us has proven we can be courteous to the teacher, and also to our fellow students. Fighting in class and mockin'g the teacher only proves how immature you really are. You don't have to do these things to make a name for yourself. If you want to be someone, you must be good. No one ever gets anywhere by being a smart-alec.

Think about what you're doing to yourself. You may be giving someone else a few laughs, but it's costing you plenty. Later on, he might not be laughing so hard, but neither will you.

So students, let's straighten up and prove to Mr. Saulman and the faculty we aren't just a large group of kids seeking nothing but pleasure. But for those of you who keep on having your fun there's a good word to remember because eventually it will happen to you. Suspension.

The present honor roll system was devised by Mr. Saulman, CCHS principal, in an attempt to expand the opportunity of acknowledgement for academic proficiency to many deserving students who could not fulfill the requirements of the previous system.

The new system has been highly successful. However, during the fourth grading period there appeared a noticeable decrease in the number of honored students. Those that did produce meritorious work during the fourth six-weeks are listed below.

Seniors — Academic

Seniors — General

Inez Bates, Mary Barrow, Aleese Brown, Mary Cavins, Opal Coleman, Crissy Davis, Cynthia Forsythe, Margaret Ledford, Anna Jo Mathews, Janice Mauck, Joyce Melton, James Smith.

Juniors — Academic

Virginia Crosier, Robert Ficht, Diana Gibson, Ronnie Kellem, Nancy Keller, Linda Kirkham, Helen Lefler, Carla Miles, Deanna Miller, Diana Richert, Kathy Wilson.

Juniors — General

Alexa Clements, Alma Engleman, Alice Harrell, Teresa Norman, Cindy Steenbergen.

Sophomores — Academic

Sophomores — General

Anita Fisher, Delbert Hayden, Carolyn Lang, Lillian Lasley, Karen McCoy, Dennis Stepro.

Freshmen — Academic

Scholarship Tests
Given Juniors

The 1965 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test was given to fifty-five juniors March 9. The NMSQT is a three hour examination of educational development and is the first step in the competition for four-year Merit Scholarships provided.

The test scores of students who are examined in March will be reported to their schools before May 15. The scores are used by counselors in many high schools to help students make decisions about college attendance and field of study.

More than 14,000 Semifinalists, the highest scorers in each state, will be named early next fall. Names of Semifinalists are published in a booklet which is distributed to all colleges and to other sources of financial aid for undergraduates. Further, their names and test scores are sent to the two colleges that they list as their preferred choices at the time that they take the NMSQT.

Approximately 38,000 additional students, selected on a national basis, receive Letters of Commendation for their high performance on the qualifying test.

Bass Invade CCHS

Today's teenagers have become conscious about what they wear and how they look; no longer are they haphazard in their dress and cleanlines. It used to be that teenagers' parents would choose their children's clothes, but not any more. Most teenagers today demand to choose their own clothes and are no. about to wear Mother's choice if it does not meet the accepted styles. Some teenagers even prefer to make their own clothes, a very economical way to keep in style. Boys especially are extremely conscious of the way their hair is combed—they make more trips to the rest rooms to comb their hair than what might seem the logical reason.

The next time you make a trip to Louisville please notice something. When you come across students your own age, note the shoes they wear. At first glance it the sounds ridiculous to ask you to observe teenagers feet, yet it proves the above point. After making your survey you will have probably noticed that one type of shoe appears more than the rest. Some of you will recognize these shoes as moccasins or penny loafers, but their official name is Bass Weejuns, or simply weejuns. These shoes are one example of what teenagers today have chosen as their favorites in clothing; and this fact is from a recent article in Time magazine. Teenagers are constantly evaluating new styles of clothing and clothes combinations and, as one result, weejuns have become the most popular in footwear.

Yes, when you return from your visit to Louisville and re-enter the halls of CCHS, you will see that the weejun wearers are in a minority. Still, as styles have spread over the nation, and as the popularity of weejuns has spread to Louisville and across the river, we can expect to see changes in the appearance of the student body as a whole here at CCHS, just as we have witnessed up to today.

Set Your Eyes On A Star

The United States is enormous as a unit. Its functions and activities seem distant from events in Corydon. Members of this community work and barter among themselves for livelihood. A few residents go as far as Louisville to shop and work. Yet for most of us, our world is contained inside a perimeter with a radius of, at most, fifty miles.

Washington, D. C., is where the top officials are. They make the decisions to trade with other countries, to feed starving people in far away lands, and even to defy the laws of nature by leaving the earth. Yet we do not seem to be affected here in Corydon.

This is a small community. Corydon Central High School is just another small town school. What is done in this community will be news to shock the world, or will it?

Just a few days ago we watched two men encircle the globe three times. Those two men, John Young and Virgil "Gus" Grissom, are truly great and brave men. We look to them with admiration and respect. They are a part of this great country.

Yet the success of Tuesday's orbital flight can be attributed to another small town, only fifty miles away, which is not much unlike Corydon, Mitchell, Indiana. Mitchell is the home town of "Gus" Grissom. There he was born, raised, and educated. No one knew that he would become a world famous pioneer of space. When he was of high school age, he too probably thought the same thing we all are thinking, that he was just one of millions and that his life would not affect many people outside his own family.

From Indiana's own astronaut we can gain a valuable lesson. Before us lies an unpredictable, limitless future. The leaders of this country and the world, at which we look with awe, are no bigger than any of us. Many of them had no opportunities comparable to ours. Yet through hard, diligent work, and perhaps a little good fortune, they attained a high position in life for themselves.

Virgil Grissom is one of these men that began just as we have begun, with a high school education. He was no different than any of the students at Corydon. He set his goals high and reached them, and in doing so proved that no longer is the sky the limit.

We, as students of Corydon Central High, as inhabitants of Indiana, as citizens of the United States have a duty to perform for our community, our country, and for ourselves. Opportunity is at hand. By taking advantage of the educational facilities offered us, we can attain goals that the now beyond our dreams. Yet, proper use of the opportunity that confronts us at school is important. It can be, has been, and is being abused by students at CCHS and in schools all across the country. No one can force us to learn or to want to succeed. As individuals it is our own duty to better ourselves as students and as citizens of the United States.

Through our desire to learn and to succeed, we can become a part of this Great Society. Maybe one in our midst will achieve a position of esteem and honor, and just as we all are thinking, that he was just one of millions and that his life would not affect many people once a part of our community.

Future Homemakers, Business Leaders Have Joint Meeting

The Future Homemakers and Future Business leaders held a joint meeting after school on March 10. A representative from the Nancy Taylor Charm School, with the charm course at Spencerian Business College, talked to the girls. Her speech centered around the three A's of business which were appearance, attitude and ability. She stressed the importance of a good appearance for a good first impression. She told the girls to put on a smile the first thing every morning. A frown takes seventy-two muscles while a smile takes only fourteen. A good appearance opens doors in the business world, and your attitude and ability gets you in the door. The girls practiced walking, sitting, and standing under her direction.

FHA Has Panel Discussion

A goal of the FHA is to help teenagers with their problems. At their meeting on March 9 the girls listened to an informal panel discussing some of the problems of the teenager. Rev. Nelson Chamberlin of the Corydon EUB Church narrated, and Mr. Schneider was a member of the panel. Mrs. Helen Kirkham represented the teacher's point of view and Mrs. Cecil Fravel, the mother's point of view. Helen Kintner, president of the FHA, and Danny Sutherland, president of the FFA, represented the teenagers.

Helen Kintner Helps Plan District Meeting

Helen Kintner, local president and district parliamentarian of the Future Homemakers traveled to Bloomington on March 21. She met with the other ten district officers to plan the district FHA meeting, April 3, at Mitchell High School. Our club will send a delegation to this meeting where Carolyn Lang, sophomore, will run for district parliamentarian.

The Future Homemakers are selling non-toxic oven cleaner, price $1.79. This cleaner is also used for chrome on cars.

The FHA will sponsor a Mountain Dew Dance Friday night, March 26, from 7:30 to 11:00 p.m. Dress as a hillbilly.

Sympathy

Members of the faculty and student body wish to extend their deepest sympathy to Mr. Arthur Windell whose father, Julius Windell, passed away recently at his home in Indianapolis.

FBLA To Attend State Convention At Ball State

Eighteen members of the Future Business Leaders of America will board a chartered bus at 12:00 noon Friday, April 2. Their destination is Ball State Teacher's College at Muncie, to attend the annual State FBLA Convention. Their sponsor, Miss Cunningham and Mrs. James Wolfe, former FBLA sponsor, and her little girl, will accompany the twelve senior and six junior girls.

The highlights of Friday night will be the campaign speeches and a talent show. The election will be conducted by second state vice-president, Linda Feller. Junior Diana Gibson will run for second vice-president for the coming year. Linda Cavins was selected by the club to enter the Miss FBLA Contest. She had to write a letter of application and will have a fifteen minute interview in Muncie. Eileen Stilger will compete for the Studebaker Leadership Award. Alma Engleman, Diana Gibson and Cynthia Forsythe will enter a spelling contest, the words will include many business terms. All winners and the new officers will be announced at a banquet Saturday at noon.

Our FBLA will display an exhibit featuring their achievements for the school year. It will be a large puzzle, each piece representing a project that allowed them to make the trip.

The students who will travel to Muncie are Mary Jane Barrow, Darlene Bentley, Linda Cavins, Janet Conrad, Margaret Creceilus, Alma Engleman, Linda Feller, Ruby Feller, Judy Fisher, Cynthia Forsythe, Diana Gibson, Shirley Hoehn, Margaret Ledford, Janice Mauck, Joyce Melton, Teresa Norman, Connie Rainbolt, and Eileen Stilger.

To Y-Teens: Bring Your Own Pizza Mix

The Y-Teens will have a pizza party Friday night, April 9, at 7:00 in the home economics room and the lobby. Each Y-Teen will invite another girl. The girls will bring the pizza mix of their choice and make them at the party. Mary Mathes and Becky Brown will be in charge of games.

A profit of $14.17 was made from the sale of the pin and guard sets. The Club has purchased a Kodak Hawkeye Instamatic Camera to take pictures of their events for their scrapbook.

Future Teachers Attend Reception At Jeffersonville

The annual Delta Kappa Gamma reception for senior members of the Future Teachers of America was held Sunday, March 14, at Indiana University's Southeastern Campus at Jeffersonville. The reception is sponsored by the Lambda Chapter of the organization, which is an international sorority for women educators.

The members and guests met in a reception in the student lounge at three o'clock. The president opened the program with a welcoming speech. The Madrigal Singers from Jefferson High School entertained the members and guests with several songs. They have won two state contests.

Exchange Student Speaks

Miss Maria Quvala an exchange student from Ecuador to Jeffersonville High School spoke on "How Cultural Biases Hinder Advancements in Education." She told of her homeland and its problems as compared to ours.

Delta Kappa Gamma members attending from Corydon were grade school teachers Mrs. Faye McPhillips, Mrs. Ruth Morris, Mrs. Wilma Windell, and Mrs. Hilda Meyer, high school teachers Miss Mary Eskew, Mrs. Dorothy Reimold, and FTA sponsor Mrs. Belle Brunner. The FTA Seniors present were Cynthia Forsythe, Linda Cavins, Margaret Meyer, Barbara Baxley, Ann Pinaire and Nancy Kirkham.

The Future Teachers of America

E. Stilger To Enter Spencerian Contest

Each year Spencerian College, Louisville, Kentucky, sponsors a High School Senior Typewriting Contest. The contest this year will be held on April 17. Each of the high schools in the Louisville area is asked to enter its most outstanding senior typist. The students who place first and second in the contest receive a portable typewriter. The student who places third receives a $50 savings bond, and the student who places fourth receives a $25 savings bond.

On Friday, March 12, eight of our senior girls competed among themselves to determine who would represent Corydon Central at the Spencerian contest. The girls typed continuously for an hour and a half. They typed both five- and ten-minute writings, letters, and all the various business forms.

Those girls participating in the contest were Crissy Davis, Linda Feller, Ruby Feller, Phyllis McMonigle, Wanda Mason, Joyce Melton, Diane Miller, and Eileen Stilger. The girl who will represent our school at the Spencerian contest is Eileen Stilger.

were guests at a Classroom Teachers meeting Monday afternoon, March 8. They saw a film strip on elementary teachers. Future teachers present were Margaret Meyer, Fred Wolfe, Martha Yates, Nancy Kirkham, Robert Yates, Suzanne Windell and Cynthia Forsythe.

SHOP RECEIVES A NEW WELDER

The school bought the vocational agriculture class a new welder. The $1500 welder, with a self-generated power supply, replaced an older worn out one in the shop.

Corydon's Future Farmer Chapter helped to complete the quota of six railroad cars of farm machinery for the Mexico project. Seniors Carl Mathes, Gary Monroe, and Danny Sutherland filled out an application for the Mexico trip during the month of June. Each boy had to have a written recommendation from Mr. Art Windell, and Mr. Saulman; also a drivers license, show some mechanical ability, and experience with farm machinery. They also needed some knowledge of Spanish.

Our chapter of the Future Farmers of America is the third largest in the state with seventy-eight members. They will have their annual awards banquet April 6. Awards will be given to the crop and livestock winners and the honorary chapter members. Applicants for the Star Chapter Farmer award are seniors Keith Wiseman, Gary Monroe, Fred Wolfe, and Danny Sutherland.

Danny Sutherland, FFA president, was interviewed on the local WPDF Radio Station during National FFA Week, February 20-27. During this week the club members put a pencil in each teacher's mailbox.

The garden seed sales of the Future Farmers amounted to over $600 this year. Bob Feller, freshman, sold the most seeds.

The FFA basketball party was held in the school gym, March 9. Refreshments of hot dogs, candy bars, and soft drinks were served.

Corydon Linksmen Expect Good Season

The prospects for the 1965 golf team appear better than favorable. With four lettermen returning from last year's team, which posted a winning season, this year's team should produce a near perfect record. Those returning are seniors Jim Mathews and Pat Moss and juniors, John Walter and Marc Smith. The loss of two seniors from last year's team will be overcome by the addition of a fine crew of freshmen that have the potential of filling the shoes of H. V. Withers and Richard H Parker, with talent to spare. The freshmen are Bill Kirkham, John Kirkham, Alan Hess, and Jack H Miles. Completing the roster are Randy Leuty and Tom Butt, juniors, and senior, Pat Kirkham.

The linksmen will compete thirteen times. Included in the schedule are nine bi-meets, one triangular meet, a conference meet, the H Bedford Invitational, and the Sectional. Following is the complete T golf schedule.

March 30	Charlestown	T
April 2	Charlestown and Clarksville	H
April 6	Silver Creek	H
April 9	Salem	T
April 22	New Albany	H
April 23	Clarksville	T

From How High Can You Catch A Baseball

From how high can a baseball be caught. Charles "Gabby" Street, a catcher for the Washington Senators achieved imperishable fame for a stunt catch when on August 21, 1908, to win a wager, he caught a ball thrown from the top of Washington Monument. The ball fell 505 feet, at the rate of 161 feet a second, and the fall's force was that of an object weighing 117 pounds.

However, in 1940 Hank Helf who was once a catcher for the Cleveland Indians, caught a baseball thrown from the top of the Terminal Tower in Cleveland—a 700 ft. drop.

Corydon Should Be Stronger In Track

By Charlie Phillips

Joe Miles and Roger Jenkins have been chosen by their teammates as co-captains for this track season.

This year thinlies should be stronger than last year's squad, if the boys are willing to work.

We should be strong in at least two or three events. In the pole vault, senior Roger Jenkins will be returning, with very good support from another senior, Jim Mathews and four promising freshmen, Bob Enlow, Jack Enlow, Dale Lopp, and Dennis Akers. The addition of a new fiberglass pole should aid the cause somewhat.

Seniors Joey Miles and Larry Pendleton will be returning along with sophomore Ireland Scott for the 440 yard run, and should have respectable times this season. Joe Miles will also participate in the high jump, shot put, and relay races.

Miles, Jenkins, Pendleton, and Scott will be counted on in the relays and middle distance races.

In the high jump Tom Butt and Buddy Oakes will be returning T from last year's squad. Oakes, a H senior and Butt, a junior, excelled T in this event and will be counted H on for greater heights this season. H In the distance runs, the half H mile and the mile, seniors Bob Watson, Joe Cato, and Mitchell Ayres; junior Joe Mattingly, and sophomore David Chinn will be returning from last year's team. They will be given strength in the events by two outstanding freshman runners, Monty Schneider and Alan Hess. These two freshmen should make themselves known this season.

In the hurdles junior John Powell will have the inside track. He did very well last year and is by far our best hurdler. He will also be counted on in the relays.

Senior Dale Sonner coming out for the first time this year will give us depth in the dashes, 440, and relays. Another senior, Jim Mathews, will also help in the dashes, hurdles, and relays.

I will attempt to field two relays in both the 880 and mile relay with the help of some promising freshmen.

There will be a freshman track team this season because of the good turnout this year. They will have from three to five meets including the Freshman Conference meet.

Boys that will be counted on in the relays include: 880 — Smith, Scott, Mathews, Butt, Powell, Sonner, Pendleton, Oakes, and Miles; Mile — Scott, Pendleton, Mathews, Powell, Sonner, Butt, Smith, Schneider, and Hess. The complete roster includes: seniors, Mitchell Ayres, Ricky Brown, Roger Jenkins, Jim Mathews, Buddy Oakes, Larry Pendleton, Dale Sonner, Bob Watson, Joe Miles; juniors: Tom Butt, Randy Leuty, Jim Mathews, Joe Mattingly, Roger Mauck, and John Powell; sophomores: John Mathews, David Chinn, Chuck Harbeson, Allen Hoskins, Frank Sandullo, Ireland Scott, James Simcoe; freshmen: Dennis Akers, Earl Lalkorn, Tom Alton, Keith Cline, Doug Engleman, Bob Enlow, Jack Enlow, Benny Fisher, Cecil Hamilton, Dale Lopp, Mike Monahan, Gary Orme, Bob Pate, Ted Pennington, Freddy Smith, Richard Thomas, Monty Schneider, and Alan Hess.

PANTHERS FALL TO MORGAN

Morgan's Raiders proved that their 75-67 mid-season victory over Corydon was no fluke as they pulled the trick again by knocking the Panthers out of the Salem Sectional 54-43. Neither Corydon nor Morgan played well, but the Raiders appeared more relaxed as they led at every stop. Although Danny Monroe tossed in 22 points, the Raiders won the game with their defense and rebounding as they held the Panthers to only 43 points and controlled both the offensive and defensive boards. The loss closed out Corydon's season with a 14-9 record.

Corydon Tromps North Central

Playing what was perhaps their best game of the season, the Corydon Panthers downed the North Central Tigers 72 - 45 to move into the semi-finals of the Salem Sectional. The Panthers gained an early lead which they increased throughout the game. Corydon's defense proved to be the winning factor as the Panthers held North Central to only 28 points for three quarters. Usually high scoring Mark Burgher was limited to 12 points thanks to the standout defensive work of Larry Pendleton. Roger Jenkins, Joe Cato, and Larry Pendleton led Corydon in scoring with 22, 12 and 11 points respectively.

Baseball Season Opens April First

Although six of the nine starters from last year's varsity baseball team graduated, the chances for a successful season appear possible. If some of the underclassmen come through, the Panthers could give the Conference team a run for their money. Dale Sonner, Larry Pendleton, and Joe Cato are the only starters back from last season's team and Larry Windell and Tom Emily are returning lettermen. The Panthers finished last season with a 6-5 record, but they had to win the last two games to do so.

The Corydon roster includes: senior Joe Miles; juniors Jerry Hard-son, Nick Kintner, Joe Mattingly; sophomores, Larry Ashabranner, James Blank; freshmen, Alan Hess, Monty Schneider, Sammy Eckart, Richard Thomas, Cecil Hamilton, Dennis Akers, Wayne Hannel; let-termen, Dale Sonner, Joe Cato, Larry Pendle-on, Tom Emily, and Larry Windell. The Panthers will be especially weak in the outfield T with Windell being the only boy T with any experience. However, the Panthers should have a fine in- H field, plus one of the conference's top pitchers in Dale Sonner.
