Juniors Chosen or Girls' - Boys' State

ALAN HESS and BILL KIRKHAM have been chosen as Corydon High's delegates to Hoosier Boys' State, a one-week course in practical government education. The conference will be held during the summer on the Indiana University campus. Alternates are James Pfeiffer and Tom Alton.

Both Alan and Bill have been starters on the varsity basketball team since their freshman years. Alan played football this year and was elected co-captain of next year's squad. Bill has been one of our outstanding golfers. Alan is serving as President of the "C" Club this year and is a member of the National Honor Society. Bill, also a NHS member, was a previous officer of the Student Council and is again one of the representatives for his class this year.

Boys' State is sponsored by the American Legion. During the one week at I.U., the emphasis is placed on learning through actual experience in the activities of democratic government. When the boys arrive they are assigned to a political party, either the Federalists or the Nationalists. About sixty boys of mixed party membership make one "city" at Boys' State. Two cities comprise one "county". Using this method, the directors build a small-scale replica of a state government. Boys attend short school periods each day. Then, if they desire any office, they must rally support and begin campaigning. The rise to power usually starts with being elected chairman of ones "precinct" (precincts are smaller divi-

MARY JEAN MATHES and BECKY SHIREMAN will be the CCHS delegates to the twenty-sixth session of Hoosier Girls' State sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. The conference will be held on the Indiana University campus from June 18 to June 25. Mary Jean is sponsored by the local Auxiliary unit. Her alternate is Barbara Lang. The Business and Professional Women are sponsoring Becky. Her alternate is Pam Fisher.

There has been a change in the number of delegates this year for most counties. Last year, over nine hundred girls attended, ten of which were from Harrison County. In 1967 an effort will be made to cut down the large number statewide. Harrison County is now allowed to send only four delegates.

The schooling at Girls' State is run in a method similar to that of Boys' State in that delegates take part in government activities carefully constructed to parallel the real thing.

After this first step, delegates progress through party positions until, possibly, they are nominated by their party for a state office in the big election representing a state election which is the climax of the week's activities.

Anyone can be elected governor at Boys' State — no special knowledge is required. However, a basic knowledge of parliamentary procedure and public speaking ability are extremely helpful at such a conference.

SCIENCE STUDENTS who made the field trip to the University of Louisville inspect one of the elaborate laboratory set-ups there.

ENTER NOW First Science Fair Shapes Up or Apr. 28

Corydon Central High School will hold its first Science Fair in the high school gymnasium on April 28 from 5:30 to 10:00 p.m.

All students in junior high and senior high school are urged to participate to make this a successful event. Students who wish to participate should fill out an entry blank. The entry blank may be gotten from your science teacher.

The divisions in the Science Fair will be: Physical Science (including Mathematics) and biological Science. Awards of first, second, third, and fourth place winners will be medals in the high school section and ribbon in the Junior High School section. All participants will receive a "Certificate of Participation". The Junior and Senior High School students will be judged separately. The first place winners of the Major Divisions will be voted upon for the Grand Award.

The projects to be exhibited may be in any area of science and a paper of 1,000 words must accompany the exhibit. The display must not be over 48 inches wide, 48 inches deep. It can be any height.

If you would like to participate, see your science teacher and get started now.

judge the acts at auctions. This committee consists of Don Harper, Jeanne Hoehn, Missy Forsythe, Janice Gettelfinger and Joyce McIntire. Anyone interested in entering the contest should contact one of them.

Five faculty members, Mr. Bickel, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Reimold, Mr. Frederick, and Miss Puryear will be judges at the contest. Each act, besides talent, will be judged on presentation, originality, and general or over-all impression.

Club Members Visit Univ. Of Louisville

Mr. Larry Newton, sponsor of the Science Club, accompanied by five members of the club, visited the Chemistry Department at the University of Louisville March 4.

Dr. Thomas Crawford, Associate Professor of Inorganic Chemistry and currently acting chairman of the department was host to the group. Those who accompanied Mr. Newton were Norma Windell, Tom Alton, Bob Barrow, Roy Lasley, and Howard Webb.

The students were given information pertaining to the interrelationship of the various chemistry courses taught at the university. The students were told what is expected of them when they reach their first college chemistry course. Dr. Crawford commented that the teaching of chemistry has changed tremendously in past few years. "Much of the material that was taught in college has gradually shifted downward into the high school because of the wealth of information that is available in the field of chemistry."

ELECTRONIC EQUIPMENT

The members were then led through the various research and student laboratories. The Science Club members were impressed by the amount of graduate research going on in such areas as physical, inorganic, organic and biochemistry. A number of the students were amazed at the amount of electronic equipment that is used in all phases of research. For example, Dr. Crawford showed how a pendulum suspended in a viscous liquid behaves by visualizing it on an oscilloscope which was attached to an analog computer. Other points of interest, were the research on rare element Lutetium, the magnetic susceptibility device, ultraviolet and infrared spectrophotographs, and the nuclear magnetic resonance machine.

Art Contest Winner Student Council Discovers Talent

Mike Haggard, junior at Corydon Central, has won a scholarship in a recent art competition sponsored by the Indiana Federation of Clubs. Each student entering the competition submitted a portfolio of three to five works of art. A county contest was held the first week of March in which Mike's work was selected to represent Harrison County in the District competition. His portfolio included two tempera paintings, a pastel drawing, a poster, and a clay sculpture.

On Sunday, March 13, Mr. and Mrs. Lander accompanied Mike to Bedford where the district judging was held. This district included Clark, Crawford, Floyd, Harrison, Lawrence, and Orange counties.

As alternate district winner Mike will attend an Art Workshop at Ball State University July 24 - 28. His winning portfolio and selected works from the other local county contestants are on display downtown.

Mike's art work is seen often at school in the form of signs and posters. Mr. Lander stated that he is extremely proud of the fine work that Mike did in the first of several art contests in which our students are participating.

The Student Council will again sponsor the annual Talent Show Contest. The show is scheduled for March 30 at 2:30 p.m.

All talented students are urged to try out. Auditions for the Talent Show began after school Monday, March 20. This year a trophy will be given for the best act. Members of the Student Council will were awarded certificates for their presentation of the youth of our country in this contest. Mr. Saulman presented the awards.

Music - Art Prog. Apr. 30 For Public

The Music and Art Departments will sponsor a joint program of the Arts Sunday Afternoon, April 30. Mr. Lander announced an art exhibit will be held in the lobby and the lobby end of the gym; the exhibit will be open to the public at 1 p.m., and remain open until an hour following the concert.

Most of the work will be from students now enrolled in art. Mr. Lander states, however that anyone in the high school is welcome to show his work. Such work must be original, turned in to the art room by April 26, and approved by the art department.

The band will give its spring concert beginning at 2 p.m. The program will include a variety of music including solos, trios, novelties and well known selections. The modern work "Instant Music" played at the March 23 assembly will be repeated for the public.

There will be an admission charge of fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for students. Under school age free.

"Instant Music" Inspires Artists

The band performed on March 23 for an assembly. The program included a Bass Solo "Forty Fathoms" played by Harold Hall, a trombone trio "Slippery Gentlemen" played by Dennis Stepro, Ruth Alton, and Jim McGraw, a novelty "Lulu Bell" featuring a singing girls trio: Carol Miller, Anita Fisher, and Deena Kinkadee, and a Dixieland band: Eileen Hall, Billy Goldman, Ruth Alton and Harold Hall.

Highlight of the program was the playing of "Instant Music" and the announcement of an art contest. "Instant Music" is a very modern type of music, also referred to as "Chance Music." It is an experience in group creativity whereby each student chooses any note to play as an accompaniment while improvised solos are played by other members.

An art contest will be held in conjunction with the playing of "Instant Music" and the Art Department.

Rules For The Art Contest

- A $25 purchase award will be offered to the winning painting. The winning painting will become property of the band department.
- Three honorable-mentions will be selected with no cash awards. These will be returned.

"To Bodies Limp And Faces Blank"

Seniors look out! The teachers are starting to fight back. (Can you believe it?) The latest blast leveled at the class of '67 was a reaction to a poem praising the senior class which appeared in the Valentine section of the February Pantherette. The poem, a simple, truthful blurb, was as follows:

To the Senior Class,
We'll miss you when you've gone away
And it's because we love you.
You're the greatest class we've ever had,
We've never had to shove you.
From the Faculty

Forty - Five Minutes To Close A Window

Everyone should have some knowledge of the way Parliamentary Procedure works. However, this has always been a rather dull and tedious job, because of the many rules and exceptions to the rules that must be learned and followed. Students rejoice! The Speech II class has come through for you again with an easy, fun way to acquire great skill in this subject.

This method is better known as Eliam's Planner's Club. It was set up for two purposes; to plan the class' future debate topics and radio programs, and to conduct all meetings according to Robert's Rules of Order. Members of the group often have conflicting ideas, making the meeting anything but dull. By following the rules exactly, it has taken as long as forty-five minutes to decide whether or not to close a window!

Once when the class found itself in possession of five pennies, days were spent in heated discussion deciding what to do with them. This was a lot of money, and all kinds of ideas were expressed as how to put the money to the best use. Finally a compromise was arrived at. It was decided that two of the five cents should be given to the Heart Fund. The other three would be put in the bank to draw interest. When enough money is accumulated a share of stock in a promising company will be purchased.

Even if the school was on fire, these people would not leave the meeting, without first carrying a motion to the effect of leaving the room through all the proper stages. Because the members are often at each other's throats, they diligently study all the rules in order to catch an opponent off guard. This can really throw the President into a state of confusion if he is not up to date. So that more than one may share this experience, new officers are elected every month.

So even though many times more thing are discussed than debate topics and radio programs, everyone is learning parliamentary procedure "letter perfect".

We'll admit that the poem wasn't actually written by the faculty. However, what really should concern a student is how could anyone possibly disagree with the poem? Furthermore, how could one of our own teachers be moved to . . . RETALIATION? One silver - curled, dignified member of the teaching squad sat down and deliberately wrote a poem of protest designed to refute our statement that the faculty thought we were the greatest. And, here it is:
A pall of death hangs o'er the room
As on the teacher drones
To bodies limp and faces blank
And minds as cold as stone.

"Oh, one small word," the teacher cries,
"To show that you still breathe!
What fear, what calculation lies
In the minds those masks enshrine?"

"Those A's and B's you dare not risk,
Exposed to others' reach?
For these you'll trade man's heritage,
The right and power of speech?"

Now, I ask you, fellow students, ain't that elegant? And, any intelligent person must agree that a class that can inspire someone to turn out a literary masterpiece like that is certainly extraordinary.

In hopes of extending this cultural upsurge, the Pantherette invites other teachers to give to us all those poison pen letters to the students which they have been having all these months.

Dear John,
I was pleased and proud to hear of the success of the Panthers in the recent Sectional and Regional. As a former student of CCHS I was sorry to have only seen the Panthers play once this season. Continued success in the spring sports and good luck to next year's basketball players. I hope to see them in Butler Fieldhouse next spring.
Sincerely yours,
JIM HAYS

ATTENTION SENIORS

Back issues of the Pantherette are available to people who wish to keep a record of their high school days. These issues of the school paper date back to fall 1963. As Corydon has a school paper instead of a year book, these Pantherettes are the only record a senior has of his high school days. If you want a record to show your grandchildren, see Mrs. Jones in the journalism room and get your Pantherettes. Last years cost of binding was $6.30. Back issues of a complete school year sell for 50c a year.

OPINION POLL CCHS DICTIONARY OF MODERN SLANG

The journalism class has done something useful. (I hope that statement is shocking enough to get your attention.) For all teachers, freshmen, parents, and other forms of wildlife, who have ever complained because they couldn't understand the language of the modern teenagers, we have compiled a brief but informative C.C.H.S. Dictionary of Slang Expressions.

Several students were asked to give their favorite personal slang expressions and then to define them. The results are as follows:

"Suzzy" is my favorite slang expression. I use "suzzy" usually when referring to a girl who is conceited, snobby, and literally thinks she is the greatest thing that ever hit the halls of C.C.H.S. The girl may be referred to as a "suzzy zilch" instead of just saying that she is a conceited girl. The "suzzy zilch" is the girl who is too good to associate and be polite with girls who want to be friendly, and with boys who would like to take her out.

"Snake" — an undesirable anything like a girl.
"Grease" — undesirable boy. Often seen with snakes". Checks his hair every morning with a dip-stick.
"Teeny Boppers" — freshmen and sophomores.
"Horse" — car — Mustang.
"Hog" — motorcycle.
"Flash" — staff photographer.
"Spastic" — finding a hair in your food.
"Fox" — sly boy.

Corydon High School Has Localized "Slanguage"

Slang makes a language interesting. Without slang, conversation may become boring because of unavoidable repetition. If one uses slang, however, repetition is almost impossible because slang is constantly changing. There is no such thing as "standard slang." If a word becomes widely used, it is no longer slang.

A recent article in a teen magazine illustrates the wide differences of slang in different parts of the United States. The article defined the current "slanguage" of New York teens. In comparing these words with popular Hoosier slang, one notices that slang sometimes spreads widely but more often true slang is highly localized.

The only words mentioned in the article commonly used in both Indiana and New York were "tough" and "sharp." These words have been in usage for such a length of time that they are no longer effective. The life of a slang word can be extended because of habit but such an overuse of a word causes its meaning to lose intensity. An important part of real slang is the shock effect. "Tough" and "sharp" are no longer unusual and do not cause the listener to stop and think. Therefore, their slang characteristic is dead.

From this we may assume that effective slang is usually local slang. A good example of local slang is New York's "raunchy." (The magazine's translation of raunchy is trying to get a piece of popcorn out of your teeth in public.) Apparently in common use in New York, "raunchy" is almost unheard of in the Midwest.

Often, certain slang words exist only within the listening area of a radio station. Disc jockeys find that their constant chit-chat becomes boring if they use only the usual, formal, accepted language.

Report On Job Corps

Mr. Saulman and Mr. Norman attended the Principals' and Guidance Counselors' Day at Atterbury Job Corps Center March 9. They visited classrooms, special education, automotive shop, brake, shop, small cooking, air conditioning and heating maintenance.

The special education area has set up a diagnostic and remedial instruction service for those who need it.

Referrals are sent to the remedial clinic for diagnostic, remedial and corrective evaluation. Corpsmen are evaluated by an instructor who uses standardized instruments and observational techniques in determining specific reading deficiencies.

The remedial reading area is handled by an instructor who utilizes phonic skills, sight vocabulary and structural analysis to develop the Corpsman's reading ability.

In the remedial area, work is done on a one-to-one basis. Consequently, each Corpsman receives an instructor's undivided attention during the period. Part of the job is making the Corpsman aware that he needs these functional skills in order to become a literate reader.

Modern techniques, such as film strips, tachistoscopic exercises, eye-movement-control devices and individual pacing machines are used in the reading aids sector of the clinic. Here, too, an instructor works on a one-to-one basis, but small group instruction is utilized whenever possible.

Job Corps is the War on Poverty's residential training program for young men and women aged 16 through 21 who are without jobs and who, because of poverty, do not have the education or training to find them.

Most young people enrolled in Job Corps never finished school. But listen to their reasons: Because they grew up in the despair which surrounds the poor and felt that schooling was pointless. Because they had to support families or nurse sick parents. Because their parents did not have enough money to clothe them. Because their parents moved so frequently in search of work that the youths simply couldn't keep up with studies.

Job Corps' purpose is, first of all, to train every young man or woman in skills which will enable him or her to find work in jobs with a future. Secondly, its purpose is to help every enrollee lift himself outside his restricted life of poverty and into a productive role in society.

For example, in Job Corps Centers a young man not only learns automotive mechanics, but also his place in the workings of his community. A young woman learns not only secretarial skills, but also how to maintain a happy and healthy home.

Both Mr. Norman and Mr. Saulman said the thing that impressed them most was the change in attitude of these youth. They have hope, and they are trying hard to find their places in work, in life and in society.

World Traveler Next Assembly

Tom Grimm, a world-wide traveler, will be featured at an assembly Apr. 17. Just a few days after graduating from Bradley University with a Master's degree in Spanish, he started on a 45,000 mile journey. In his program he will tell why he made the trip, show slides of the thirty-six countries he visited, and describe how others can also make a similar journey. Among the places he has seen are India's Taj Mahal, the pyramids and Sphinx of Egypt, and Buddhist temples in Bangkok, Thailand. Of special interest are visits to the Orin Countries of Russia and Hungary, and a look at Berlin on both sides of the Wall.

FR. - SP. CLUBS PRESENT SHOW

A French and Spanish variety show was given in the gymnasium on the evening of March 20. The program was presented by the two foreign language clubs and directed by Miss Nolen and Miss Puryear. Parents, friends and other interested language students were invited.

The Spanish club sang 3 group songs, did a Mexican Hat dance and a Spanish version of Little Red Riding Hood. Mona Rothrock sang a solo.

The French Club gave three short skits and sang three French songs. Mike Bennett accompanied all singers on his guitar.

All the songs and acts were in French and Spanish but were simple enough to be enjoyed by all who attended.

Rev. Butt Speaks On Easter Season

Rev. Wilford Butt, pastor of the St. Peter's and Gethsemane Lutheran Churches, spoke to the Y-Teens at their regular meeting March 20.

He told the girls that Easter was the oldest of festivals and mentioned some of the superstitions connected with Easter before the Christian era.

Now Easter is celebrated the first Sunday after the first full moon after March 21. Easter could be as late as April 25.

A movement is underway now and supported by the World Council of Churches and unopposed by the Vatican to set Easter on the Sunday following the second Saturday in April.

Brutus Leads Her Warriors To Rome

It was the Ides of (March 15). The weather suggested death (rainy and cold). The yelling mob (Latin Club members) neared the great city of Rome (Louisville). They were led by Brutus (Mrs. Bruner). After arriving in the city they approached the forum (Rialto Theatre). Bursting through the doors they hurried to meet their Caesar ("The Bible"). Then for the next three hours they got their vengeance against the enemy. Finally, thoroughly satisfied, they returned home.

Another Caesarian attack? No; merely the Latin Club's trip to the Rialto in Louisville to see the movie, "The Bible".

TEN GIRLS IN CCHS MAJORETTE TRYOUTS

Majorette tryouts March 21. Ten girls performed as follows: Brenda Quebbeman, Missy Forsythe, Sandy Watson, Deena Kinkade, Debbie Ferguson, Sherry Cline, Kathy Kline, Lorie Chamberlin, Cindy Orwick, and Kay Alton.

Gibbs And Sample Speak To Art Club

Miss Peggy Gibbs, home economics teacher, spoke recently to the Art Club. She related to the students some of the experiences of her trip to Europe this past summer. Her talk centered around the various art galleries and museums in the countries that she visited.

Mrs. Rosamond Sample, Corydon artist of note, talked to a group of thirty art club members and interested students. She commented on a number of her art works which were on display in the art room.

Mrs. Sample discussed how to get ideas for a painting and how she works in the area of abstract art. It was interesting to note that she gets many of her ideas from reading and by simply looking at everyday life around her.

FFA Activities

Pest Control Contest Ends

The sophomore class won the local FFA Pest Control Contest with a total of 18,000 points. The top man from all four classes was Wayne Fravel, junior, who had a total of 8,000 points. His prize was a $5.00 order out of the FFA catalogue.

District XI FFA Contest

Steve Hoehn and Mr. Windell attended the District XI FFA Contest at New Albany March 8. Steve participated in the FFA Creed Contest, but his placing is to be announced at a later date.

County Speech Contest

Each member of the Club prepared and gave a speech on "What Soil and Water Conservation Means to Me, My Community and My Nation."

One of four boys will be chosen to represent the school at the County Contest in March which is sponsored by the Harrison County Soil and Conservation Service. The four boys are Bill Owen, Steve Haggard, Paul Robson, and James Ward.

B. QUEBBEMAN COMPETES IN S. U. S. T. A. P.

Brenda Quebbeman, junior, was one of 39 contestants in the annual Senior U.S. Twirling Association Preliminaries. They were held February 12 at the Eastgate Shopping Center Auditorium in Indianapolis.

Each contestant had to compete in three events. The first event was an appearance in a twirling outfit. You performed and told a little about yourself. The next event was a talent contest performing some other act besides twirling. Brenda did a modern jazz routine she had learned from her dancing class. The final event was the modeling of long formals. While each girl was on stage modeling, the Master of Ceremonies read a short autobiography of her.

Brenda plays a flute in the band and has been a majorette for two years. Brenda has also taken dancing lessons for 6 years.

Ten of the 39 girls were chosen for the finals in March, but all contestants were asked to attend and be hostesses and model their gowns.

Band Members Sell Birthday Calendars

Band students will be taking orders for the "Birthday Calendar" until April 7. The customer can buy a calendar for 50c and list the family's birthdays and wedding anniversary at 25c each. The calendar will include dates of meetings, school events, etc. in addition to the birthdays and anniversaries listed. In the past years, many calendars with listings have been sold throughout this area. The proceeds will go to the band parents organization, which pays for the many trips the High School Band takes, new uniforms, new equipment, etc.

Soph. Class Party Held On St. Patrick's Day

The Sophomore Class did something different by having a St. Patrick's Day Dance, March 17. The dance was a semiformal that lasted from 7 till 10:30. The cafeteria was decorated with green and white. Refreshments consisted of punch and cookies.

Chaperons for the party were Mrs. Reimold, Miss Puryear, Mr. Frederick, Mr. Norman, Mr. Trueblood, and Mr. Reagan.

BUSINESS LEADERS TRAVEL TO B.S.U.

The Future Business Leaders will travel by chartered Greyhound on Friday, April 7 to Ball State University for the annual Indiana FB-LA Convention.

The convention will begin with a variety of contests. The Corydon Central Chapter has the following entrants in contests: Miss FB-LA, Barbara Overton; Studebaker Leadership Award, Anita Fisher; Spelling, Diane Emily; Parliamentary Procedure, Carol Miller, Jeanne Hoehn, Cheryl Haun, Pam Richard and Pat Pitman. Two members will be campaigning for state officers: Pam Fisher for second vice-president and Barbara Lang for treasurer.

The club will also be entered in the exhibit and original projects contests; the latter consists of a study of the requirements and demand for various jobs in our community.

FB-LA CONVENTION SCHEDULE

The convention schedule will begin at 7:00 p.m. Friday with contests and discussion groups. Anita Fisher, who at present is the state second vice-president, is in charge of the discussion groups. The topics of this group will range from chapter programs and money-making projects to what it means to be a chapter or state officer. Each member attending will participate in one of the discussion groups. The campaign for state officers for 1966-67 and a program by the Ball State Trombone Choir will follow the discussion groups.

The activities for Saturday morning will include a business meeting, a speaker, the election of state officers, and the spelling contest. The convention will be climaxed by a luncheon and presentation of awards. First-place contest winners will be eligible to participate in the FB-LA National Convention in June.

This FB-LA trip will be made possible through the sale of the Tom-Wat articles sold before Christ mas. Money earned in this project will pay for chartering the bus, for motel rooms, and for luncheon reservations.

FB-LA WEEK — APRIL 2-8

The State Convention is just one of the highlights of FB-LA. Governor Branigan has proclaimed the week of April 2-8 as State FB-LA Week. Through the special FB-LA Week activities, you may learn more about FB-LA.

PANTHERS STOPPED BY N. A. IN REGIONAL

New Albany scored a 74-62 win over the Panthers in the championship game of the Huntingburg Regional.

The Cats played the same deliberate game which had won them four tourney victories, but suffered a humiliating night as the ball just would not go through the hoop.

Ireland Scott, Alan Hess, and Doug Bates grabbed rebound after rebound and got shot after shot in the first half and could tie only the Bulldogs 8-8 in the first quarter.

Doug Bates netted 10 of Corydon's first half total of 23 and grabbed 10 rebounds. In shooting the Panthers connected on only 9 of 30 in the first half and 12 of 39 in the final two stanzas. Corydon held a rebounding edge of 43-39 and committed only 5 miscues to New Albany's 10.

Sophomore Doug Bates finished the game as the leading scorer with 21 points and Monty Schneider added 11. Alan Hess and Mike Bennett made 9. Bennett made all his points in the fourth quarter.

Athletic Banquet

May 13

ALAN HESS adds two more to the Panther cause against Oolitic. Backing him up are Mike Bennett, 40; Bill Kirkham, back on defense, and Doug Bates.

Spring Outlook Appears Bright

Spring is here and with it the spring time sports, such as golf, track, and baseball. The following is a brief summary of what can be expected of the teams.

GOLF

Last year's golfers, coached by Mr. John Wood, won Mid-Southern Conference Meet, the Sectional, the Corydon Invitational, finished eight in the Dyer Tourney, and finished in a tie for eleventh in the State Tourney.

The 1967 team has three returning lettermen Jack Miles, Alan Hess, and Bill Kirkham, all juniors. The golf team should be watched closely as they will be strong as if not stronger than last year.

TRACK

The 1967 track team could be something of a surprise package. Coach Charlie Phillips' track team has 11 returning lettermen, most of whom have one or two seasons' experience.

The team's strongest event is expected to be the mile run in which Monty Schneider the holder of the school record is expected to be just as strong as last year. In addition to Monty's record Coach Phillips has an optimistic attitude for the other members of the team.

BASEBALL

The baseball team opens its 1967 season April 3 against Providence on the home diamond. Bolstered by the talents of eight returning lettermen the team has plenty of potential and should be improved over last year.

Fourteen games are scheduled followed by the Indiana High School Athletic Association Tournament in June. Mr. Joe Miles is the coach.

Wood's Cats Beat Bat

Corydon gained a berth in the final round of the Huntingburg Regional by defeating a determined Oolitic team 56-51.

The Panthers took the lead 35-30 midway in the third quarter behind the shooting of Alan Hess and Doug Bates. Soon after the Bearcats scored 11 straight points to go in front 41-35 with three minutes left in the game and trailing 51-46. Alan Hess hit a field goal that started Corydon's streak of 10 points. Bates, Bennett, and Bill Kirkham all found the mark before Alan Hess put the Panthers in front to stay 52-51. To get control of the ball Oolitic was forced to foul. With 25 seconds remaining Hess dropped in two free throws to increase the gap to 54-51.

Doug Bates scored an insurance goal at the gun to give Corydon a 56-51 win. Doug was high for the Panthers with 16 while Hess added 15 and substitute Mike Bennett chipped in 10.

Corydon hit 23 of 40 from the field for 57.5 per cent, the Bearcats connected on 21 of 38 for 55.3 per cent.

COACH WOOD had his anxious moments in the Oolitic game but the outcome was worth it.

TO SAY, "They Went Wild!" is inadequate to describe the reaction of the Panther fans after Corydon beat Oolitic in the first round of Regional play.
